MEDIA INFORMATION

TO THE MEDIA: Welcome to the 19th season of Kings basketball in Sacramento. The Kings media relations department will do everything possible to assist you in your coverage of the club during the 2003-2004 NBA season. If we can ever be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call on us. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, we have established the following media guidelines.

CREDENTIALS: Single-game press credentials can be reserved by accredited media members via e-mail (credentials@kingsbball.com) until 48 hours prior to the requested game (no exceptions). Media members covering the Kings on a regular basis will be issued season credentials, but are still required to reserve seating for all games via phone (916-286-3442) to the media relations office by the above mentioned deadline. Credentials will allow working media members entry into ARCO Arena, while also providing reserved press seating, and access to both team locker rooms and the media press room. In all cases, credentials are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from ARCO Arena and forfeiture of the credential. All single-game credentials may be picked-up two hours in advance of tipoff at the media check-in table, located at the Southeast security entrance of ARCO Arena.

PRESS ROOM: The Kings press room is located on the Southeast side of ARCO Arena on the operations level and will be opened two hours prior to game time. Admittance/space is limited to working media members with credentials only. The press room will remain open throughout the game and until the last working media member has finished his/her gamenight duties. The professional intent of the press room is to provide a meeting and working place for writers, reporters, broadcasters, and game personnel. Family members and guests will not be admitted in the press room. Any abuse of the press room and/or press privileges will result in forfeiture of your press pass. Television monitors, telephones, internet service, and work space will be provided in the press room.

LOCKER ROOMS: The Kings locker room is located on the East side of the Arena on the operations level. The visitors locker room is located on the West side of the Arena on the operations level. In accordance with NBA policy, both locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before game time and 15 minutes after the game. Only those individuals with prominently displayed credentials will gain admittance into the locker rooms. Your cooperation and courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

INTERVIEWS: As stated above, pregame interviews are allowed until 45 minutes prior to game time. Postgame interviews are conducted as follows: Both the Kings Head Coach (in press room) and visiting team coach (at opposing locker room entrance) will address media members approximately 10 minutes after game, while the players will be made available in their respective locker rooms. Your cooperation and professional courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

TELEVISION/RADIO: Television and radio broadcast positions are located along the scorers' table on the North sideline. The Kings' media relations department will arrange statisticians for all radio and television broadcasters. If statisticians are needed, please contact the media relations department at least 72 hours prior to game time. Once arrangements are made for statisticians, the individual must be paid whether or not they are used. The media relations department will also arrange pregame, halftime, and postgame interviews according to NBA guidelines. Please make arrangements for those interviews as early as possible.

MEDIA SEATING: Reserved media seating has been designated on the scorers' table and in Media Boxes 217, 218, and 221. All seats are reserved and marked with place cards for each individual media member. Seating charts are posted at the media check-in desk and in the press room. To avoid embarrassment, individuals are asked to sit in their pre-assigned seats. Electrical outlets and telephones are placed on press row for your convenience. If a media member is in need of an individual phone, please contact the media relations department for assistance. Statistics and out of town scores will be distributed throughout the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Limited designated spaces are available on each baseline for both still photographers and television camera persons. All photographers are required to pick up photo passes upon arrival at the media check-in desk before entering ARCO Arena. Photographers without photo passes will not be allowed on the arena floor.

MEDIA TICKETS/PARKING: A limited number of game tickets are available to the media from the Kings media relations department. Unfortunately, all requests cannot be honored. There is a limit to the number of tickets allotted each request, and all requests should be made at least three days prior to the requested game. Media members are asked to enter the arena parking area via Toll Plaza 9 and park in Lot K.

SERVICES: A pregame media meal with beverages will be served in the press room. Game notes, media guides, and a limited number of programs will be available in the press room before the start of the game. In addition, play-by-play sheets, halftime-quarter boxscores, and postgame quotes and notes will be available in the press room following the game. Box scores and play-by-play sheets will be delivered in a prompt manner to press row at the end of each quarter. Advance game notes will be delivered to the hotel of all visiting media members. In order to provide this service efficiently, we ask that you contact the Kings media relations department if you are not staying at the designated team hotel. If there is anything else that we can do to assist your coverage of the Kings this NBA season, please do not hesitate to ask.

TRAINING FACILITY

The Kings/Monarchs Training Facility opened its doors in December 2000. The state-of-the-art, $9.1 million, 38,500 square foot facility stands adjacent to the team's home, ARCO Arena.

Ten months after the groundbreaking ceremonies on February 23, 2000, the Kings held their first practice in the facility on December 26, 2000. DPR Construction (Sacramento) was contracted to build the facility that Boora Architects (Portland) had designed.

The facility includes a number of first-class amenities. With 24-hour dedicated access for players, coaches, and basketball staffs, the structure features two full-size basketball courts, locker room facilities for the Kings and Monarchs, and office suites for the coaches and the entire basketball operation staffs of both teams.

Additionally, the facility includes a spacious weight room with the latest in training and fitness equipment and a separate treatment and rehabilitation area. The structure also houses a video scouting room with high-tech videotaping and editing equipment, a practice viewing area for VIPs, a fully equipped media workroom, a visiting team locker room, and a player's lounge.

Construction
- Ten-month fast-track construction project was built in two main sections: a precast tilt panel structure with a steel joist roof that encases two full-size basketball courts, while the balance of the building, containing offices, locker rooms, and training areas, is wood frame construction.

Office Space
- 22 offices for Kings/Monarchs coaches and staff with an additional six open-air work spaces.
- Motion sensor security system, utilizing key and thumb print access from exterior.
- Motion sensitive lighting system to reduce power usage.
- Each office equipped with custom-made, wood-based furniture to fit the needs of the individual.
- Televisions provided in all offices with VCR and/or DVD players in most offices.
- Spacious reception area, featuring a basketball-themed reception/security desk and a 40-inch plasma television.
- Conference room with a 12-person, solid maple conference table and a 61-inch high definition projection television and in-house sound system.
- Owners, management, and coaches offices have window views of basketball courts.
- 15 new desktop and laptop computers for use both in the office and when on the road. The network is powered by two servers that house the facility's e-mail system, databases, file storage, and remote access software.
- 86 phone lines with each office connected by two lines for a digital phone and an analog modem line.

Training Room
- Offices for the trainer, assistant trainer, strength coach, and team physicians for both the Kings and Monarchs.
- Two taping chairs and three treatment tables.
- Three whirlpools for ice treatment, heat massage, and aqua rehabilitation.
- 10-person steam room.

Basketball Courts
- Two full-size basketball courts designed as exact replicas to the Kings and Monarchs floor at ARCO Arena.
- Permanent hardwood flooring, hand-crafted and painted with Kings and Monarchs logos.
- Four permanent basketball stanchions with an additional four available portable stanchions.
- Fully-functional scoreboard and possession clocks.
- Court area also includes a stereo system powered by six speakers connected to the centralized audio system.

Locker Rooms
- Five separate locker rooms for Kings players, Monarchs players, Kings coaches, Monarchs coaches, and visiting teams.
- Kings and Monarchs locker rooms include 18 locker stalls, 61-inch high definition projection televisions with VCR and DVD, a 10-speaker stereo system connected to the centralized audio system, custom made heightened sinks, and individually monogrammed player robes and towels.

Workout Room
- 2,300 square foot area featuring 37 pieces of the latest high-tech cardio and weight training equipment as well as an extensive selection of free weights.
- Six wall-mounted 32-inch televisions and a high fidelity stereo system.
- Stereo and television audio system is designed with individual wireless headphones to personalize television and stereo selection.

Equipment Room
- 36x36 foot area with built-in storage for all the Kings and Monarchs' shoes and apparel.
- Industrial washer and dryers.
- Inside loading and unloading dock.

HISTORY OF OWNERSHIP

The Sacramento Kings begin their fifth season under the ownership efforts of the Maloof family, which took over control of the Kings and ARCO Arena on July 1, 1999. The Maloofs succeeded Jim Thomas, who had owned the franchise since April 6, 1992.

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs (WNBA), and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. On January 15, 1999, the Maloofs subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board.

The Maloof family's primary goal is striving toward providing complete customer and employee satisfaction and keeping a long-term commitment to the fans and Sacramento community that call the organization their own.

LES HARRISON

The Kings franchise made its NBA debut in 1948 as the Rochester Royals under the ownership of Les Harrison. Harrison also served as the club's head coach for the first seven seasons, and in 1951 he guided the Royals to the first and only NBA World Championship title in franchise history. The team was moved to Cincinnati in 1957 where one year later it became a public corporation. In 1966, brothers Max and Jeremy Jacobs purchased the club and maintained ownership through the team's move to Kansas City in 1972-73.

A group of 10 Kansas City-based businessmen purchased the club in 1973 for an excess of $5 million. The same group held proprietorship through May of 1982 when ownership was restructured so that only three partners remained, Leon Karosen, H. Paul Rosenberg, and Robert J. Margolin. Three months later, three New York-based businessmen joined the Kansas City ownership group.

On June 8, 1983, the Kings were sold to a local business group that is responsible for bringing NBA basketball to the Capitol City, as Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Bob A. Cook, Frank McCormick, and Stephen H. Cippa purchased the Kansas City Kings for approximately $10.5 million. In January of 1985, the group petitioned the NBA Board of Governors for permission to move the franchise to Sacramento. Nine months later, the Kings' Sacramento-era began as the club played its first-ever contest before a sold out crowd at the temporary ARCO Arena site.

Nineteen NBA seasons later, the club continues to play before large crowds in a beautiful ARCO Arena building constructed by the Lukenbill-Benvenuti ownership group.

MALOOF FAMILY

Hard-Working, Customer Service-Driven Family Taking the Kings to the Upper Echelon of Professional Sports and Entertainment

In just four years, the Maloof family has guided the Sacramento Kings and Monarchs as well as ARCO Arena to unparalleled heights. Under Maloof Sports and Entertainment, the Kings and Monarchs have advanced to the NBA and WNBA Playoffs, respectively, and produced entertaining basketball that has been seen throughout the world. The Kings have won back-to-back Pacific Division titles and advanced to the 2002 Western Conference Finals.

Even more impressive than the company's competitive accomplishments has been Maloof Sports and Entertainment's significant impact within the community. The company has earmarked over $1 million annually in the way of charitable gifts and donations, including a minimum of $100,000 in proceeds from a selected Kings preseason game donated to local charities as a tribute to the family's late father and husband under the name of the George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup. In the past, the annual $100,000 gift has allowed the Sacramento Airport Little League to completely refurbish its little league sports complex, the Sacramento Unified School District to repair a building in downtown Sacramento to house Hemispheres, an after-school visual and performing arts academy, and the Sacramento Asian Sports Foundation to bring a Community Cultural and Youth Sports Center to South Sacramento. This year's donation will benefit the St. Patrick's Home for Children.

The family's charitable efforts earned Joe and Gavin Maloof the Sports Humanitarian World Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives award for 2001. In addition, the organization's work was recognized with the 2002 Pro Team Humanitarian Award.

Striving toward the goal of providing complete customer and employee satisfaction, Maloof Sports and Entertainment heads into the 21st century with a vision as "a championship caliber team of people committed to the highest level of performance, service, quality, innovation, community involvement, and winning relationships."

"Our family lives by two Maloof business philosophies, cater to our customers and take care of our employees," states Joe Maloof. "We have a long-term commitment to our fans and employees that will make the entire Sacramento community proud to call this organization their own."

The Kings and Maloof Sports and Entertainment continue to explore ways to enhance the entertainment value of the nearly two million guests who annually enter through the ARCO Arena gateways. In the 2000-2001 operating budget, the company earmarked $1 million for training, services, and equipment to improve customer service and satisfaction. The investment paid immediate dividends, as the Kings ranked first in the NBA in overall fan experience in 2001 and 2003 in a league-wide survey conducted every other year by J.D. Powers and Associates.

Another Maloof investment and vision became reality in December of 2000 when the Kings and Monarchs moved their basketball operations into a $9.1 million, 38,500 square foot training facility. The state-of-the-art structure, built adjacent to ARCO Arena, features two full size basketball courts, separate locker rooms and luxury offices for both teams, and the latest in training and rehabilitation amenities.

Celebrated Return to Professional Sports

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs, and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted then-Managing General Partner Jim Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. Although both the Kings and Monarchs suffered through subpar seasons in 1997-98, the Maloofs continued their pursuit of primary ownership and on January 15, 1999, subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board. The official closing of the ownership transaction took place on July 1, 1999.

Their purchase of the Kings returned the Maloofs to the NBA after a 17-year absence during which the family eagerly pursued an opportunity to rejoin the league. Owners of the Houston Rockets from 1979 through 1982, the Maloofs watched their Rockets rise to elite status, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in the team's history in 1981. Following the death of their father, George Maloof, Sr., in 1980, Joe and Gavin Maloof, who were only in their mid-20's at the time, took over responsibility for the Rockets along with their mother, Colleen, their two younger brothers, George, Jr. and Phil, and their sister, Adrienne. The added responsibilities of continuing the growth of the family business forced the Maloofs to sell the Rockets in 1982, but George Maloof's original passion for NBA basketball has remained with the family.

"We waited a long time to get back into the NBA. I remember going to the NBA Finals with the Rockets in 1981, and how exciting that was. We want to capture that excitement with our teams here in Sacramento," Gavin Maloof stated.

MALOOF FAMILY

A 100-Year Model for Diversified Business Success

Palms Casino Is Hottest New Property in Las Vegas

The Maloof Companies are a diversified group of business ventures including hotels, casinos, banking, food and beverage, and transportation headquartered in Albuquerque, New Mexico and operated in New Mexico, Colorado, and Nevada.

In 1994, the family made a $10 million investment in a small piece of property in North Las Vegas, building the quaint 30,000-square foot, 100-room Fiesta Casino Hotel. After a pair of expansive renovations, the 75,000-square foot Fiesta became one of the most profitable hotel casinos per square foot in the entire state of Nevada. In fact, in an August '99 edition of the USA Today, the Fiesta Casino Hotel was voted one of the world's 10 greatest gambling destinations, ranking with the likes of the Bellagio and Caesars Palace in Las Vegas and the Trump Taj Mahal Casino Resort in Atlantic City.

In July of 2000, the Maloof family sold the operating interest in the Fiesta Hotel Casino for over $185 million. The family immediately re-invested the money into the construction of the Palms, a $285 million hotel casino just off the Las Vegas strip with a 42-story tower and 447 guestrooms. The Palms, which opened for business on November 15, 2001, features outstanding customer service, unique architecture, and award-winning restaurants, entertainment, nightlife, and amenities. In less than two years of operation, the Palms has become the hottest property in Las Vegas with thousands of visitors daily.

In addition to their gaming business, the Maloofs have exclusive proprietorship rights to the distribution of Coors, Miller, Corona, Heineken, Tecate, and Guinness products throughout New Mexico. The Maloof Companies also is one of the largest single shareholders in Wells Fargo Bank, which operates banks and branches in 23 states throughout the Western United States with over $200 billion in assets and 15 million customers.

Colleen Maloof serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Maloof Companies. Joe Maloof is president of the corporation and oversees the banking and sports and entertainment divisions, while Gavin Maloof is vice chairman, also leading the sports and entertainment daily operation. George Maloof, Jr., is an executive vice president and heads the hotel division, and Adrienne Maloof is the secretary/treasurer of the company. Phil Maloof is an executive vice president and a former New Mexico state senator.

The Maloof family history in the United States dates back to 1892 when Joe Maloof I opened a small general store in northern New Mexico. By the 1930's, the Maloof family acquired the distribution rights to Coors Beer and subsequently established Quality Imports, a wholesale fine liquor distribution center, in 1937. When Joe Maloof I, suffered a major heart attack in 1944, his son, George J. Maloof, left his studies at the University of Colorado to assume responsibility of the Maloof Companies at the age of 21.

George J. Maloof successfully expanded the family business into a group of diversified companies, moving into the hotel and banking sectors in the 1970's. In 1978, responding to his love for sports and competition, Maloof purchased the majority ownership of the Rockets. However, just two years later during the Rockets' rise to the upper echelon of the NBA, Maloof passed away at the age of 57. His wife, Colleen, assumed control of the entire Maloof operation and rather than selling off the company assets, she enlisted the assistance of her five children. Under Colleen Maloof the family expanded their beer and liquor distribution operations and later opened their first gaming property in 1992. From 1990 to 1992 the family also owned the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football.

In the 100-plus years that have defined the Maloof Companies, customer service and a strong work ethic combined with energy and vision are the qualities that have built this one-time general store into a business model for diversified success. "From the days of my grandfather's general store to our entire operation now, the Maloof family business philosophy always has been centered around complete customer and employee satisfaction. In Sacramento, the fans are our customers and providing a great experience for them is our goal," says Gavin Maloof.

MALOOF FAMILY

JOE MALOOF

Joseph Maloof is President of the Maloof Companies. Joe's business expertise and leadership qualities have helped enhance and diversify the corporation's growth since his father's death in 1980.

Joe manages the Maloof Companies' nearly 3,500 employees with an open door policy, much like his father did nearly 30 years ago. He also believes in treating customers in a first-class manner and with the utmost respect, and is often seen talking and listening to the fans and customers of the various family businesses.

"My father's business philosophy of taking care of our customers and employees was successful long ago, and all of us in the family have chosen to manage with that same style," states Joe.

His extensive expertise in management, sales, and marketing has been invaluable during the company's expansion into banking, hotels, and gaming over the past 20 years. He currently serves on the Board of the Coors Distributor Council. In May of 1999, he was appointed to the NBA Board of Governors by Commissioner David Stern after the Maloof family was unanimously approved by the Board to assume controlling interest of the Kings.

Like all of his family, Joe's charitable efforts are an important aspect of his personal and professional life. He has assisted countless community service groups through the years, including the Boys Club, the University of New Mexico, the American GI Forum, the Airport Little League, and the League of Latin American Citizens, to name just a few.

He has a passion for competition, stemming from his days as a prep and collegiate athlete. He was MVP of his high school basketball team at Lawrenceville Prep School (Lawrenceville, N.J.), and was a two-time letterwinner as a defensive back at the University of New Mexico, where he graduated in 1979 with a degree in business.

Joe resides in Sacramento less than two miles from ARCO Arena. He enjoys working out and is an avid tennis player.

GAVIN MALOOF

As Vice Chairman of Maloof Companies, Gavin Maloof assists in all aspects of the family's diversified business ventures while overseeing the company's sports and entertainment operation. He is dedicated to maintaining and building the corporation's national and international prominence and spearheading a new era of growth for the company.

Although Gavin is relatively young in terms of professional sports and entertainment ownership, his experience is extensive. Following the death of his father, George J. Maloof, Sr., in 1980, Gavin was named president of the Houston Rockets at the age of 24, making him the youngest owner and operator in major professional sports history. The Rockets enjoyed immediate success under Gavin's leadership, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in franchise history in 1981. With the likes of Moses Malone, Calvin Murphy, and Elvin Hayes, the Rockets qualified for postseason play in all three seasons under the Maloof family ownership.

In addition to his front office management with the Rockets, Gavin also served as team president during the Maloof's tenure as owners of the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football (WLAF) from 1990-92.

Gavin has always placed an importance on his community service work. Over the years he has served on the board of directors for several charitable causes, including those focusing on the well-being of children.

An active sports fan and participant, Gavin was an outstanding football player at the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N.M., and at Trinity University in San Antonio. He graduated from Trinity in 1979 with a speech and communications degree.

Gavin resides in Sacramento less than two miles from ARCO Arena. He enjoys playing golf in his spare time.

COLLEEN J. MALOOF

Chair of the Board, Maloof Companies
Trustee for the Estate of George J. Maloof

Colleen J. Maloof is chair of the board of the Maloof companies and trustee for the estate of George J. Maloof. Throughout the key years that George Maloof built the Maloof Companies into the largest group of family-owned enterprises in New Mexico, Colleen was an instrumental partner in their prosperity. Faced with the challenge of carrying on the family tradition of success after her husband's passing, she has grown the Maloof Companies as never before.

Colleen Maloof is a major force behind the family's continued strength and the Maloof's corporate and civic leadership. She is a leader in her community and has received a number of honors and awards, including the Associated Students of University of New Mexico Award for Dedication and Service, Mexican-American Foundation of America Women of the Year Award, and the Image de Albuquerque Award, which was presented to the Maloof family for their significant contributions to Hispanic business development.

Colleen has played a pivotal role in developing the "Maloof style" managerial skills of her children, Joe, Gavin, George Jr., Phil, and Adrienne. She has worked to ensure that company policies and practices remain true to the family motto, "The Customer is King."

GEORGE MALOOF

Adhering to his father's policy of learning the family business "from the ground up," George J. Maloof, Jr. has successfully established himself as an innovator in the hotel and gaming industries.

George is the leading force behind the building and operation of the hottest new property in Las Vegas, the Palms, which is owned by the Maloof family, and has become one of the most sought-after destinations in the entertainment capital of the world.

As President of Maloof Hotels since 1989, George has overseen the operation of hotels throughout the Southwest and California, including the Fiesta Casino Hotel in Las Vegas, the Central Palace Casino in Central City, Colorado, and the Palms.

George has very strong ties to the Las Vegas community. He is a UNLV alumnus, where he received his bachelor's degree in business administration (hotel management) in 1987.

In addition to his work in the gaming industry, George is also a member of the Patriarchal Order of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem and the Las Vegas Chapter of Legatus.

ADRIENNE MALOOF-NASSIF

Whether it's marketing, fashion design, promotion, or politics, Adrienne Maloof-Nassif is involved in all aspects as well as the overall leadership of the Maloof Companies.

Adrienne's marketing and promotional contributions have been invaluable in the Sacramento Kings becoming one of the most recognizable franchises in all of professional sports. In addition, her lifelong interest in competitive professional dancing has allowed her to lend her expertise to the Kings' widely popular Royal Court Dance Team.

Philanthropic work also is a personal passion for Adrienne. Because of her love and concern for animals and children, Adrienne has joined forces with the Sacramento SPCA to serve as an honorary spokesperson. Her financial contributions allowed the SPCA to complete a new shelter in February of 2002 and develop the Adrienne Maloof Camp Kindness program, which allows underprivileged youth to learn the proper care and handling of animals.

Growing up in Albuquerque, New Mexico, she was one of the country's top ranked junior tennis players and went on to play collegiate tennis at the University of New Mexico, where she earned a bachelor's degree in political science.

Adrienne resides in Los Angeles with her husband Paul and their infant son, Gavin. She loves to spend time with her son as well as her dog, Ity Bity, and her adopted cats, Spanky and Lulu. She also enjoys reading and working out.

PHIL MALOOF

Phil Maloof is an executive vice president with Maloof Companies and a former senator for the state of New Mexico.

During his time in office, Phil was one of the youngest elected officials in the country, appointed to the New Mexico State Senate following the election of Mayor Martin Chavez, and subsequently re-elected to a full four-year term from his west Albuquerque district in 1996, before running for U.S. Congress in 2000.

Phil was known for his tough stance on crime while representing New Mexico, becoming the first state senator in the country to sponsor the Three Strikes, You're Out law, in addition to helping pass several bills aimed at improving school funding.

An outstanding all-around athlete, Phil played quarterback collegiately at New Mexico State, before earning his post-secondary degree from the University of New Mexico.

Phil currently lives in Las Vegas, where he works in all facets of the Maloof Companies, including the Sacramento Kings and the Palms hotel and casino property. He enjoys playing basketball and traveling in his spare time.

GEOFF PETRIE
President, Basketball Operations

Geoff Petrie is the key figure behind the resurrection of the Sacramento Kings. A two-time NBA Executive of the Year award winner, he is forever trying to find ways to strengthen the Kings, evidenced by his moves over the last nine years. This past offseason, among his latest moves, Petrie orchestrated a trade with the Indiana Pacers that brought All-Star center Brad Miller to Sacramento, strengthening the Kings' inside game and solidifying the middle for years to come. He also signed veteran free agents Anthony Peeler (guard) and Tony Massenburg (center-forward).

Prior to the start of the 2002-03 season, Petrie was successful in re-signing guard Mike Bibby to a multi-year contract extension. He also signed center/forward Keon Clark, who, at the time, was considered by many as one of the top free agents available, and later added valuable swingman Jim Jackson shortly after the season began. The free agent signings proved to be beneficial for the Kings. Both players were key members of the rotation and despite an injury-filled season, Sacramento finished with the NBA's third-best record (58-23).

Petrie inherited a Kings team in June of 1994 that had not advanced to the postseason in eight years. In just his second season at the basketball operations helm, Petrie's 1995-96 squad qualified for the NBA Playoffs.

Currently entering his 10th year overseeing the Kings' basketball operations department, Petrie has completely re-tooled a Sacramento roster that has qualified for the NBA Playoffs in each of the past five campaigns and six of the past eight years overall. The Kings have won back-to-back Pacific Division titles and advanced to the Western Conference Finals in 2001-2002.

Petrie's efforts in Sacramento were rewarded following the 1998-99 season when he was named The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year, becoming the first person in NBA history to win both the league's executive and rookie annual awards. Petrie shared the 1971 NBA Rookie of the Year award with Boston's Dave Cowens. Following the 2000-01 season, Petrie was named The Sporting News Executive of the Year for a second time.

Not only are the Kings one of the NBA's top competitive teams but also one of the most entertaining, having led the league in scoring three of the past five seasons. The Kings' wide-open, "share the ball" style of play has prompted network executives to schedule Sacramento for 155 nationally televised games since 1999; this after the team had appeared on national TV a total of 13 times in the previous 13 seasons.

Petrie oversees all aspects of the Kings' basketball operations department, including the coaching and scouting staffs, team negotiations, and player acquisitions. He also serves as the main basketball liaison between the Kings, the NBA, and the league's 28 other teams.

Petrie's re-working of the Kings' roster has come via all avenues of player acquisition. His first-round draft choices have included current Kings Peja Stojakovic (1996, #14) and Gerald Wallace (2001, #25) as well as Brian Grant (1994, #8), Corliss Williamson (1995, #13), Tariq Abdul-Wahad (1997, #11), Jason Williams (1998, #7) and Hedo Turkoglu (2000, #16). Meanwhile, his second-round draft selections also have proven to be productive, including Lawrence Funderburke (1994, #51), Michael Smith (1994, #35), and Anthony Johnson (1997 #40 overall), each of whom have played at least five NBA seasons.

Petrie also has consummated 14 player trades since 1994, highlighted by the 1998 deal, which landed All-Star forward Chris Webber. He also acquired the services of Bibby, veteran swingman Doug Christie, and most recently Miller, through trades. Petrie's Sacramento free agent signees have included the likes of centers Vlade Divac and Scot Pollard (traded to Indiana as part of the Miller deal) and guards Bobby Jackson and Peeler. Not only has he exhibited keen skills in bringing in talented players, Petrie also has achieved success in keeping key players for the future, evidenced by the re-signing of Bibby during the summer of 2002, in addition to Webber and Christie in 2001 and Stojakovic and Pollard in 2000.

Petrie was the first-ever selection of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1970 NBA Draft (#8 overall), prior to the club's inaugural NBA campaign. In his first season as a professional, he posted Portland team highs in scoring (24.8 ppg), field goals made (784) and attempted (1,770), free throws made (463) and attempted (600), and assists (4.8 apg).

DID YOU KNOW ... Geoff Petrie is the first person in NBA history to win both The Sporting News Executive of the Year (1998-99 and 2000-01) and NBA Rookie of the Year (1970-71) awards.

Petrie's scoring average remains the highest ever by a Portland rookie, while his single-season point total (2,031 pts.) made him one of just eight players in NBA history to surpass the 2,000-point plateau in his rookie campaign. Oscar Robertson and Michael Jordan were the only other guards to achieve the feat (also Wilt Chamberlain, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry, Elvin Hayes, and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar).

Petrie was a two-time All-Star (1971, 1974) and winner of the NBA's 1973 One-on-One tournament, defeating the likes of Gail Goodrich and Bob McAdoo. He still holds Portland single-game records for most points (51, twice), most field goals made (20) and attempted (37), and most free throws made (18). He currently ranks sixth on the Trail Blazers' all-time career list in points (9,732), fifth in assists (2,057), and third and fifth, respectively, in field goals attempted (8,719) and made (3,970). A knee injury suffered in his sixth NBA season (1975-76) ended his professional playing career in which he registered averages of 21.8 points, 2.8 rebounds, and 4.6 assists per game. His Trail Blazers jersey (#45) was retired by Portland in 1981.

Following his retirement, Petrie worked in private business and beginning in 1984-85 in various roles within the Trail Blazers' front office, culminated by a four-year tenure as the team's senior vice president of operations. He was instrumental in the building of a Portland team that qualified for the 1990 and 1992 NBA Finals and included the likes of Clyde Drexler, Buck Williams, Jerome Kersey, and former Kings' Assistant Coach Terry Porter.

A 1970 graduate of Princeton University, Petrie earned consecutive All-East and All-Ivy League honors following each of his final two collegiate seasons under legendary Tigers head coach and current Kings' Assistant Coach Pete Carril. The team captain as a senior, Petrie ranks seventh on the school's all-time scoring list (1,321 pts.) and fourth among career scoring average leaders (19.9 ppg).

Petrie and his wife, Anne-Marie, reside in Loomis, California. He has three children, son, Mike and twin daughters, Anne-Marie and Susanne. Petrie enjoys working out, playing golf and tennis, and playing guitar in his spare time.

RICK ADELMAN
Head Coach

The Kings, under Head Coach Rick Adelman, have achieved a tremendous amount of success over the past five years. In fact, over the last three seasons, the Kings' winning percentage of .711 (175-71) ranks second-highest among all professional teams in the four major sports (NBA, NFL, MLB, NHL), trailing only the San Antonio Spurs (.715, 176-70).

Entering his 14th campaign as an NBA head coach and sixth with Sacramento, Adelman guided the Kings to its second straight Pacific Division title last season with a 59-23 mark (third-best in the NBA). The fact that the Kings were able to achieve such a feat, despite being hit with a rash of injuries to key players for most of the season, was a direct result of Adelman and his coaching abilities. There wasn't one Kings player who saw action in all 82 games during the 2002-03 campaign. As a result, Adelman was forced to use 13 different starting lineups.

With Sacramento finishing the first half of the season with one of the best records in the league, Adelman and his staff earned the right to coach the Western Conference All-Star Team in the 2003 NBA All-Star Game in Atlanta, marking the second time in the last three years he and his staff have manned the Western Conference bench during All-Star Weekend. Adelman also served as head coach of the Western Conference All-Stars in the 2001 NBA All-Star Game in Washington, D.C. when the Kings went into the All-Star Break with the Western Conference's best record (30-15).

Owning a lifetime NBA record of 603-384 (.611) with Portland (1988-89 – 1993-94), Golden State (1995-96 & 1996-97), and Sacramento (1998-99 – present), Adelman has recorded the sixth-most wins among active NBA coaches behind Pat Riley (Miami), Don Nelson (Dallas), Larry Brown (Detroit), Jerry Sloan (Utah), and Phil Jackson (LA Lakers). He is the fourth coach in NBA history to win 60 or more games in a season with two different teams.

Winning is nothing new to Adelman. Five years ago when he signed on as the 19th head coach in franchise history on September 17, 1998, Adelman inherited a team that had won only 27 games the year before (1997-98). In each of his five seasons as the Kings' skipper, Sacramento has finished with a record above the .500 mark, including five consecutive playoff berths. He guided the Kings to its first-ever Pacific Division title and Western Conference Finals appearance of the Sacramento-era during the 2001-02 season. The Kings' climb to 61 wins during the 2001-02 campaign marked a 34-win improvement over a four-year span, which was the highest jump among NBA teams. Though the Kings' 2002-03 record of 59-23 was two wins shy of matching their previous year's franchise-best record, it still ranks among the highest jumps for NBA teams over a five-year span.

Prior to Adelman's arrival in the Capitol City, no Sacramento-era Kings squad (since 1985-86) had registered a winning record. Now the Kings have done so in all five seasons under Adelman, posting a combined record of 245-131 (.652) over the past five campaigns. In fact, Adelman is the franchise's first head coach since Les Harrison in 1948-49 thru 1954-55 to guide the Kings into the postseason in five consecutive seasons. The Kings advanced to the second round of the playoffs for the first time in the Sacramento-era history, upon their first-round series win over Phoenix during the 2000-01 campaign. His overwhelming success in Sacramento has prompted the Maloof family to extend his contract on three separate occasions.

Known around the league as a basketball teacher with an ability to mold the team's style of play around the strengths of its players, Adelman's coaching highlights include a pair of NBA Finals appearances with the Trail Blazers in 1990 and 1992. Between the 1989-90 season and the 1992-93 campaign, Adelman led Portland to four consecutive 50-plus win seasons, including a league-best mark of 63-19 in 1990-91. He has been runner-up for NBA Coach of the Year honors three times (1990-91 with Portland, and 2000-01 and 2001-02 with Sacramento). Adelman coached the West Team in the NBA All-Star Game during the 1990-91 season. He also has been named NBA Coach of the Month on four occasions.

Adelman played seven seasons in the NBA, primarily with the San Diego Rockets and Portland Trail Blazers before closing out his career with the then-Kansas City-Omaha Kings. Originally selected by the Rockets in the seventh round (#79 overall) of the 1968 NBA Draft, Adelman played two seasons in San Diego before being chosen by Portland in the 1970 NBA Expansion Draft. Technically speaking, Adelman began his coaching experience during the 1970-71 season when he led the Trail Blazers to a victory after coach Rolland Todd had been ejected.

Adelman was traded to Chicago just prior to the 1973-74 campaign and then was dealt to the Pete Maravich-led New Orleans Jazz early in the 1974-75 season. Looking for veteran leadership in their run to the 1974-75 NBA Playoffs, the Kings made a late-season acquisition to obtain the 6-2, 180-pound Adelman, who played his final 18 regular season and six postseason games with the Kings organization. All told, Adelman averaged 7.7 points, 2.4 rebounds, and 3.5 assists in 462 career regular season NBA games.

A native of Lynwood, California, Adelman began his playing career at St. Pius X High School in Downey, California before attending Loyola University in Los Angeles, where he was named MVP of the West Coast Athletic Conference as a senior in 1967-68. After retiring from the NBA, he returned to Loyola to earn a master's degree in history, and then worked for Converse in Southern California for a year.

Adelman's first coaching position came in 1977 at Chemeketa Community College in Salem, Oregon, where his teams amassed a 141-39 record over six seasons (1977-78 — 1982-83), winning or sharing three Oregon community college championships. In 2000, Chemeketa honored Adelman, presenting him with the Gwen VanDenBosch Volunteer of the Year Award for his tireless fund-raising efforts with the annual Rick Adelman Golf Classic. Each year, the golf tournament provides scholarship funds for a male and female member of the Chemeketa basketball teams.

Prior to the 1983-84 campaign, Adelman rejoined the Trail Blazers as an assistant coach under Jack Ramsay. He maintained his spot on the Portland bench when Mike Schuler succeeded Ramsay in May of 1986, and then took over the Blazers' head coaching reigns in February of 1989. Adelman is the second-winningest coach in Portland franchise history behind only Ramsay, posting a 291-154 (.654) regular-season record while qualifying the Trail Blazers for the postseason in all six of his seasons.

A series of personnel moves and injuries plagued Adelman's clubs during his two-year stint with Golden State. However, in his first season with the Warriors (1995-96), Adelman guided the team to a 36-46 record, resulting in a 10-game improvement from the previous campaign.

Adelman is a devoted family man and a community leader in both Sacramento and the Portland area. He and his wife, Mary Kay, who have been married for over 30 years, enjoy playing golf and tennis and spending time with their six children-Kathy and her husband John, R.J., Laura and her husband Chris, David, Caitlin, and Patrick, and three grandchildren, Mary Kay, Anna, and Mackenzie. The entire Adelman family has always shown a great commitment to the community, working closely with local church and charitable organizations.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

WAYNE COOPER
Vice President, Basketball Operations

Wayne Cooper is entering his 26th year in the NBA and his 10th with the Sacramento Kings organization. Cooper has served as the club's vice president, basketball operations since July of 1996. He was promoted to his current position after working two seasons as the club's director of basketball services/assistant coach. He came to Sacramento in July of 1994 following two campaigns in the Portland Trail Blazers' front office.

Cooper helps oversee the day-to-day operation of the Kings' basketball operations department under the direct guidance of President, Basketball Operations Geoff Petrie. In addition to scouting collegiate, professional, and international talent, he is in charge of preseason scheduling and overseeing the club's collegiate player data base.

Cooper enjoyed a 14-year playing career in the NBA after being selected by the Golden State Warriors in the second round (#40 overall) of the 1978 NBA Draft. During his professional playing career, Cooper served stints in Golden State (1978-80), Utah (1980-81), Dallas (1981-82), Portland (1982-84 and 1989-92), and Denver (1984-89), posting career averages of 7.9 points, 6.2 rebounds, and 1.56 blocks per game.

Cooper played collegiately at the University of New Orleans (1974-78) under Head Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, earning 1978 Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year honors after averaging 18.1 points and a conference-high 12.7 rebounds during his senior campaign. He finished his career as the No. 2 shot blocker (183) and third-leading rebounder (920) in school history. He was inducted into the UNO Hall of Fame in 1988 and the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 1992.

He and his wife, Denise, live in Granite Bay, with their youngest daughter, Lauren (14), while daughters, Andrea (18) and Courtney (20), are away at college.

JOHN WETZEL
Assistant Coach

Beginning his 31st season in the NBA as either a player or coach, John Wetzel enters his sixth year as a Kings assistant coach. He was reunited with Kings Head Coach Rick Adelman in 1998-99, with whom he spent six seasons in Portland (1988-89 — 1993-94) and two campaigns in Golden State (1995-96 & 1996-97). While in Portland, Wetzel helped guide the Trail Blazers to the NBA Finals in 1990 and 1992. His coaching experience has proven to be a valuable asset to his current position, where Wetzel's main responsibilities include coordinating advance scouting, reviewing offensive and defensive game plans, and individual skill work with selected players.

Prior to his years in Portland, Wetzel served as head coach of the Phoenix Suns in 1987-88 after an eight-year stay (1979-80 — 1986-87) as an assistant coach with the club. He also worked as an assistant coach with the New Jersey Nets in 1994-95. In all, 17 of the 23 teams Wetzel has helped coach, including the past five Kings squads, have reached the NBA Playoffs, making five Western Conference Finals appearances (1984, 1990, 1991, 1992, 2002).

Wetzel and the entire Kings coaching staff served as coaches for the Western Conference All-Star Team in the 2003 NBA All-Star Game in Atlanta. It marked the fourth time in Wetzel's career that he was named as an All-Star assistant coach, and second in the last three seasons. Wetzel and the Kings' coaching staff served as coaches in the 2001 NBA All-Star Game in Washington, D.C. after Sacramento posted the Conference's best record at the All-Star Break. He also represented the Western Conference in 1981 while with Phoenix and in 1991 with Portland.

Wetzel enjoyed a seven-year NBA playing career (1967-68 — 1975-76) after originally being selected by the Los Angeles Lakers in the eighth round (#76 overall) of the 1966 NBA Draft. He did not play his rookie season due to a broken wrist, but began his career with the Lakers in 1967-68. Wetzel was selected by Phoenix in the 1968 NBA Expansion Draft, but then served two years in the military before returning to the league for the 1970-71 season with the Suns. The 6-5 guard averaged 3.4 points, 1.9 rebounds, and 1.4 assists over his seven-year career. His last season as a player in the league was in 1975-76 when he was a member of the Western Conference Champion Suns who lost to the Boston Celtics in the NBA Finals.

Wetzel earned his bachelor's degree in liberal arts and science from Virginia Tech University. He averaged 18.5 points and 8.8 rebounds per game for the Hokies his senior year (1965-66) and was elected to the Virginia Tech Basketball Hall of Fame in 1985. A native of Waynesboro, Virginia, Wetzel and his wife, Diane, who renewed their wedding vows in the summer of 2001 (35 years), have two adult sons, Mark and Paul. They enjoy outdoor activities and spending time in the off-season in Hawaii.

ELSTON TURNER
Assistant Coach

Elston Turner enters his fourth season as an assistant coach for the Kings. Prior to joining Sacramento's coaching staff, he spent four years working within the Portland Trail Blazers organization. With the Kings, Turner's responsibilities include handling the team's defensive game plan, individual skill work with players, and advance scouting.

A 21-year veteran of professional basketball as a player and coach, Turner is known for his strong work ethic and his ability to communicate with individuals and players of all levels throughout the league. Before joining the Trail Blazers' staff, he was an assistant coach for the CBA's Quad City Thunder and a player-coach with the league's Chicago Rockers.

As a player, the 6-5 Turner was noted for his defensive tenacity. He played eight NBA seasons in all, three with Dallas (1981-82 — 1983-84), three with Denver (1984-85, 1985-86, 1988-89), and two in Chicago (1986-87 & 1987-88). Overall, Turner averaged 4.7 points, 2.7 rebounds, and 1.8 assists in 505 career regular-season games in the NBA. He also played parts of five seasons in the CBA and three years in Europe in the early 1990's.

Turner and the entire Kings coaching staff served as coaches for the Western Conference All-Star Team in the 2003 NBA All-Star Game in Atlanta. He was also a member of the Kings' coaching staff which coached the Western Conference All-Star Team in the 2001 NBA All-Star Game in Washington, D.C. after Sacramento posted the Conference's best record at the All-Star Break.

Dallas selected Turner in the second round of the 1981 NBA Draft after a standout collegiate career at Mississippi. As a senior (1980-81), he led Ole Miss to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. Turner's collegiate accomplishments were honored in 2000 when he was inducted into the Ole Miss 'M Club' Athletic Hall of Fame.

Born and raised in Knoxville, Tennessee, Turner and his wife, Louise, have two children, 13-year-old son, Elston Jr. and 10-year-old daughter, Taylor.

PETE CARRIL
Assistant Coach

One of the most respected men in basketball, Pete Carril returns to the Sacramento Kings' bench in his role as an assistant coach after a year's hiatus. Entering his seventh season as an assistant coach, and eighth overall campaign with the Kings, Carril departed the bench last season, taking on a new title and new role as special assistant to president, basketball operations. However, the coach in him won out as did the Kings, as Carril resumes his daily coaching duties with the club, which includes an emphasis on individual player development and offensive schemes.

In a crowning achievement to his legendary collegiate coaching career, Carril was rewarded with an induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on September 29, 1997. After coaching 30 years in the NCAA ranks, Carril joined the Kings prior to the 1996-97 campaign. His addition to the Kings' coaching staff reunited him with Geoff Petrie, whom he coached at Princeton from 1968-70.

The winningest coach in Ivy League history (525-273, .658 winning percentage), Carril's career at Princeton included 13 conference titles, 11 NCAA Tournament appearances, and just one losing season. Prior to his retirement following the 1996 NCAA Tournament, he was the only active NCAA Division I head coach to reach the 500-victory plateau without athletic scholarships.

In his final season as head coach at Princeton, he led the Tigers to the Ivy League Championship with a 22-7 record. In one of the most thrilling moments of the 1996 NCAA Tournament, Carril's Tigers upset defending champion UCLA in the first round, 43-41, on a signature Carril-designed backdoor layup with only 3.8 seconds remaining in the game.

Carril played collegiately at Lafayette College under Head Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff. Following his graduation from Lafayette in 1952, Carril began his coaching career at the high school level where he stayed for 12 years. He went on to become head coach at Lehigh University for one season before beginning his stay at Princeton in 1967.

Carril is the proud father of two children, Peter and Lisa, as well as two grandchildren. He enjoys going on long walks and playing tennis.

DID YOU KNOW ... Vice President, Basketball Operations Wayne Cooper was listed among Sports Illustrated's 2003 Top 101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports. Cooper ranked 41st overall, which was the 11th highest listee among NBA personel/players.

BUBBA BURRAGE
Assistant Coach/Advance NBA Scout

Bubba Burrage enters his first year as a Kings assistant coach and his fourth season as the Kings' primary advance NBA scout. Entering his 10th overall season with the Kings organization, the 32-year-old native of Oxnard, Calif., spent his first four seasons with the team as video coordinator before splitting time as the team's video coordinator and advance scout for two seasons.

Burrage's duties as advance scout require him to travel throughout the country to watch the Kings' upcoming opponents and prepare a detailed scouting report on the upcoming opposition. The scouting report, along with individual and team breakdown tapes prepared by the Kings' video department, allow the coaching staff to formulate an overall game plan for that opponent.

Burrage graduated with a journalism/public relations degree from California State Polytechnic University (San Luis Obispo) in 1993, where he was a starting forward for the Mustangs' basketball team. Burrage resides in Sacramento with his wife, Keilani, and one-year-old son, Junious Desmond.

JERRY REYNOLDS
Director, Player Personnel

In his 19th season with the Kings organization, Jerry Reynolds serves as the club's director, player personnel. He was named to the position in July of 1994 after serving two seasons as the team's general manager. Reynolds is responsible for keeping abreast of both the professional and collegiate talent pools available to the Kings, while also helping to oversee the club's scouting efforts.

Reynolds, who wears many hats within the organization, recently retired from his post as general manager of the WNBA's Sacramento Monarchs following this past season. In his six seasons as the club's general manager, the Monarchs qualified for the league playoffs in four of the past five seasons. Reynolds is a member of the USA Basketball Women's Senior National Team Committee for the 2001-04 quadrennium, where he helps select the USA Senior National Teams and the corresponding coaching staffs.

Reynolds is also a member of the Kings Broadcast Network talent team, working as a color analyst for all the club's televised contests.

A native of French Lick, Indiana (where he is often referred to as the second most popular local, first being NBA Hall of Famer Larry Bird), Reynolds has a unique understanding of the interaction among players, coaches, and the front office due in part to his experience gained through his varied roles with the Kings organization. He originally joined the club in 1985 as an assistant coach responsible for advance pro and college scouting.

On two occasions Reynolds served as the Kings' head coach following midseason changes. In 1987, he was named, on an interim basis, to replace former head coach Phil Johnson. The following year he took over for Bill Russell with 24 games remaining, and stayed on as the club's head coach for the next two seasons. All told, Reynolds served as head coach of the Kings for a portion of four seasons (1987-1990). He also served as the director of player personnel for two seasons (1990-92) before accepting the role as the club's general manager (5/92-12/93).

An extremely popular figure with both the Sacramento community and the national media, Reynolds is an often-requested favorite on the public speaking circuit. A graduate of Oakland City College (Indiana) in 1966, he received his master's degree in physical education from Indiana State University in 1970.

Reynolds and his wife, Dodie, reside in Roseville and have a 22-year-old daughter, Danielle, who is attending Santa Monica College, and an adult son, Jay, who is a 1992 graduate of California State University, Sacramento.

DID YOU KNOW ... Three of Kings Head Coach Rick Adelman's former assistant coaches are current head coaches - Byron Scott (New Jersey Nets), Terry Porter (Milwaukee Bucks), and Steve Fisher (San Diego State University).

SCOTTY STIRLING
Director, Scouting

A veteran of the professional basketball ranks for more than three decades, Scotty Stirling brings a wealth of NBA knowledge and professional sports expertise to the Kings' basketball operations staff.

Having worked in the Kings organization for the past 17 years, Stirling is in his 15th season as the club's director, scouting. In his current role, Stirling is responsible for coordinating the club's collegiate scouting efforts.

Prior to joining the Kings, Stirling served as vice president and general manager of the New York Knicks from January 1986 through May 1987. For three seasons (1982-85) he held the position of vice president of operations with the NBA where he supervised referees, administered rule implementation, supervised game scheduling, and headed the league's collegiate scouting service.

From 1976 through 1982, Stirling was the assistant to the president of the Golden State Warriors, responsible for the club's day-to-day operation and player personnel decisions. He also was the general manager of the Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association when the team won the 1968 ABA title.

Stirling's pro sports experience included five seasons with the Oakland Raiders of the National Football League, first as the club's assistant general manager, then as the general manager, working closely with current Raiders owner Al Davis. In his final year with the club, the Raiders won the AFL Championship and met Green Bay in Super Bowl II.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, Stirling earned a master's degree from Adelphi University. Stirling resides in Newark, California, with his wife, Pam.

KEITH DRUM
Regional Scout

Keith Drum is in his ninth season as a regional scout for the Kings. His responsibilities include collegiate scouting and player evaluation. Additionally, Drum is part of the Kings' training camp and NBA Draft preparation staff. Prior to his tenure with the club, Drum served in a similar capacity with the Portland Trail Blazers (1989-90 — 1994-95). While in Portland, Drum worked with current Kings basketball operations staff members Geoff Petrie, Wayne Cooper, Rick Adelman, and John Wetzel.

Before joining the NBA scouting ranks, Drum worked 20 years in newspaper journalism. He spent three years as a college basketball writer for United Press International and was a staff member of the Durham Morning Herald (N.C.).

A native of Catabwa County, North Carolina, Drum studied journalism and political science while attending the University of North Carolina. Drum resides in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, with his wife, Barbara.

JACK MAI
International Scout

Jack Mai begins his third year in the Kings' basketball operations department as an international scout. His primary role is to scout talent in the Pacific-rim, including areas such as China and Japan.

Prior to joining the Kings, Mai spent a year-and-a-half as head coach of Luckipar, a professional team in Taiwan. He also served as the club's general manager for three years before taking over the head coaching duties. Mai was a member of Taiwan's national team coaching staff, which received a silver medal in the 2001 East Asian Games in Osaka. He also has garnered valuable experience working as a Nike consultant for Asia for five years. Mai began his coaching career at California State University, Dominguez Hills where he was an assistant coach for three years.

Mai earned a bachelor's degree in marketing from the University of Southern California in 1982. He and his wife, Janice, reside in Roseville, with their two-year-old son, Jaden.

DID YOU KNOW ... The Kings will play for the second time outside of the United States when they face the Houston Rockets in China in two preseason games in 2004. Sacramento faced the Minnesota Timberwolves in the Japan Games to begin the 1999-00 regular season.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

STEVE SHUMAN
Video Coordinator

Steve Shuman is in his fourth season as the Kings' video coordinator after working the previous three years as the team's assistant video coordinator. Shuman, a native of Long Beach, is also an assistant coach for the WNBA's Sacramento Monarchs.

As video coordinator, Shuman oversees the recording and editing of all videotapes of Kings games, upcoming opponents, and hundreds of collegiate and European contests. The tapes, in turn, are used by the Kings' coaching and front office staffs for game plan development and NBA Draft preparation.

Shuman graduated with an education degree from California State University, Sacramento in 1989. He was an assistant basketball coach at Jesuit High School in Sacramento (1989-91) before serving as head coach at Trinity High School in Las Vegas for six years (1991-97).

MIKE PETRIE
Video Scout

Mike Petrie enters his first season as the Kings' video scout after having spent the previous three seasons as the Kings' assistant video coordinator. The 27-year-old native of Lake Oswego, Oregon, works with the video coordinator to record and edit all videotapes of Kings games, upcoming opponents, and hundreds of collegiate and European contests.

Petrie graduated with a speech communications degree from Oregon State University in 2000. He and his wife, Traci, reside in Rocklin.

R.J. ADELMAN
Assistant Video Coordinator/Scout

R.J. Adelman enters his third year as a scout for the Kings and first as assistant video coordinator in the basketball operations department.

Prior to signing on with Maloof Sports and Entertainment, Adelman practiced law in Portland, first in private practice and, most recently, as a real estate lawyer for GMAC Mortgage.

A four-year letterman at Willamette University in Salem, Oregon, which won a Division II NAIA National Championship in 1993, Adelman started at the shooting guard position in his final two seasons. He was selected to the All-Conference team as a junior. After completing his bachelor's degree in political science from Willamette in 1995, Adelman earned his law degree from the University of Oregon in 2001.

SHELI EVERMAN
Director, Basketball Operations

Sheli Everman begins her fourth season as the Kings' director, basketball operations after working the previous five years as the executive assistant to Geoff Petrie (Kings President, basketball operations).

Everman oversees the basketball department's daily operations, and is the point person when the team is traveling. Everman is the NBA contact for all notifications of contract signings and compliance of league deadlines and regulations. In addition, she administers the players' insurance.

Everman has worked most of her professional career in sports, beginning in 1991 as a finance assistant with the Oakland Athletics. She graduated with an organizational communications degree from California State University, Sacramento in 1990. Everman has two children, seven-year-old son, Hayden, and five-year-old daughter, Reagen.

DID YOU KNOW ... Prior to moving into the new Kings/Monarchs Training Facility in December 2000, the Kings practiced at several sites through the years – ARCO Arena, Salvation Army, CHP, and American River College, just to name a few.

TROY HANSON

Director, Media Relations

Troy Hanson is serving his 12th season in the Kings basketball operations department. He became the director of media relations in 1998 after working the previous six years as the assistant director of media relations.

Responsible for overseeing the daily operation of the club's media relations department, Hanson's duties include maintaining day-to-day contact with the local, national, and international media, arranging interviews, and producing some of the club's publications. He also oversees the coordination of all player and coach appearances and works directly with co-owners Joe and Gavin Maloof on various media projects.

Prior to joining the Kings, Hanson worked as the sports information director at San Francisco State University (1990-92) and as a media relations intern at the Pacific-10 Conference (1989).

The Rockford, Illinois native earned a communications degree from the University of Arizona (1988), where he worked as a student assistant in the sports information and track and field offices. Hanson and his wife, Annette, reside in Rocklin with their four-year-old son, Nicholas.

DARRIN MAY

Assistant Director, Media Relations

Darrin May is in his fourth season as the Kings' assistant director of media relations. In his role as a liaison between the media, players, and team, he is responsible for assisting Kings' director of media relations Troy Hanson in all phases of the department, which includes maintaining daily contact with the local, national, and international media, arranging interviews, and acting as one of the team's point-persons to the media at both Kings' games and practices.

May spent 10 years in the Atlanta Hawks' media relations department in a similar capacity prior to joining the Kings.

A 1989 graduate from California State University, Sacramento with a bachelor's degree in communications, May, a Santa Rosa native, gained valuable experience as an intern in the Kings' public relations department during his senior year. He also worked in the Sacramento State sports information department for one year.

JOE NOLAN

Director, Facility Operations/Team Security

Joe Nolan begins his third year as director of Kings facility operations/team security. He is responsible for all security dealings with the Kings, both at home and on the road. Additionally, Nolan is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Kings/Monarchs Training Facility and gameday operations for ARCO Arena.

Prior to assuming his current post with the Kings' basketball operations department, Nolan spent four years as ARCO Arena's director of arena operations where his duties included overseeing the engineering, utility, changeover, janitorial, and landscaping departments.

A native of Fairfield, Calif., Nolan graduated from Portland State University in 1989 with a degree in administration of justice. He was a member of PSU's 1987 NCAA Division II championship runner-up football team. Nolan resides in the Natomas area of Sacramento.

STEVE SCHMIDT

Director, Systems Maintenance, Development & Research of Basketball Operations

Steve Schmidt enters his fourth season as the director of systems maintenance, development and research of basketball operations. He is responsible for overseeing all of the technology issues at the Kings/Monarchs Training Facility, including the computer network, phone, audio-visual, and security systems. Additionally, Schmidt performs special projects for Kings President of Basketball Operations Geoff Petrie, such as salary cap analysis and creating special team-related data base programs.

Prior to joining the Kings' basketball operations department, Schmidt spent 10 seasons as a member of the Kings' management team. As the club's vice president of finance, he oversaw all financial and accounting operations, while also managing the company's computer network system. His previous work experience includes time spent as an audit manager with Ernst & Young, an international public accounting firm.

A 1981 magna cum laude graduate from California State University, Northridge, Schmidt and his wife, Merrie, reside in Granite Bay with their three children, John, Gretchen, and Danny.

TRAINING STAFF

PETE YOUNGMAN
Athletic Trainer

Pete Youngman is in his eighth season as athletic trainer of the Kings. The Rochester, New York native spent three seasons as the club's assistant to former head trainer Bill Jones before accepting the head post in June of 1996.

In addition to being responsible for every aspect of the Kings' training room operations, Youngman works closely with the team's professional medical staff in the monitoring of a player's physical condition as well as the diagnosing and treatment of injuries. He also is responsible for coordinating all team charter flights and ground transportation.

Youngman joined the Kings after spending the previous nine years with the Boston Red Sox professional baseball organization at both the minor and major league levels.

Youngman graduated from Ithaca College in 1986. He is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

He has completed three marathons despite taking up running less than three years ago, and is currently training for the 2003 California International Marathon, which will take place this December.

MANNY ROMERO
Assistant Athletic Trainer/Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Manny Romero serves as the Kings' assistant athletic trainer/assistant strength and conditioning coach. Romero begins his second season in the dual role after spending the 2001-02 campaign as the team's assistant athletic trainer. His main responsibility is to assist athletic trainer Pete Youngman in all areas, including injury management, injury prevention, injury rehabilitation, and emergency procedures on the court as well as serving as a liaison between the doctors, team, and players.

Romero came to the Kings via the Los Angeles Lakers where he spent five years in a similar capacity. During his time with the Lakers, he also worked at a high school outreach program through three different hospitals (Daniel Freeman, Orthopedic, and USC). The program provided athletic trainers and the use of facilities to local high schools that were not provided such advancements. Additionally, Romero developed sports medicine classes in those schools, which still exist today. Romero was also the head athletic trainer for the ABA's LA Stars. During the summer of 2002, he served as trainer for the World Championship Yugoslavian national team.

Romero, who earned a bachelor's degree in biology from Loyola Marymount University, resides in the Natomas area of Sacramento.

ROBERT PIMENTAL
Equipment Manager

Robert Pimental enters his seventh season as equipment manager for the Kings. The 27-year-old Pimental previously spent four years as equipment manager for the Sacramento Knights (professional indoor soccer) and as an assistant equipment manager with the Kings. Pimental also served as equipment manager for Major League Soccer's San Jose Clash during the summer of 1997.

As equipment manager, Pimental is responsible for ordering and maintaining all non-medical team equipment and supplies. He makes all road trips and oversees the team's luggage, laundry, and equipment when the squad is away from ARCO Arena. While at home, his additional duties include supervising ballboys and team locker room attendants.

The Cameron Park, Calif., native began his career as a ballboy for the Sacramento Attack (arena football). Pimental is single and resides in Sacramento.

MANAGEMENT TEAM

JOHN THOMAS
President

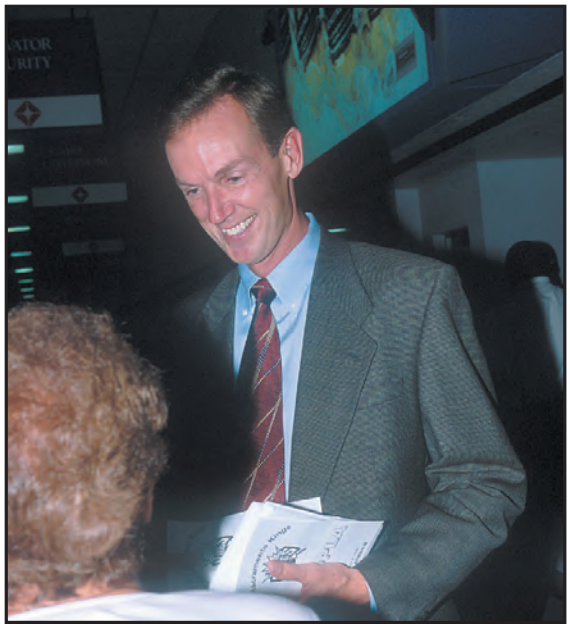
When the Maloof family came to Sacramento four years ago, they needed someone to lead the new management team of Maloof Sports and Entertainment and their search started and ended with John Thomas. Combining a proven successful management style with an energetic work ethic, Thomas is the president of the Sacramento Kings (NBA), Sacramento Monarchs (WNBA), and ARCO Arena.

Thomas brings a wealth of experience to the Maloof Sports and Entertainment team, having worked as a professional sports executive for the past 15 years.

As president, his tasks are wide-ranging and include the development and implementation of an annual operating plan while overseeing all aspects of the organization, including team and arena ticket sales and marketing, strategic alliances and brand development, arena operations, food and beverage sales, merchandise sales, and the company's community service efforts.

He is a member of the Board of Directors for the Sacramento Convention and Visitors Bureau and the Sacramento Metro Chamber, where he sits on the Regional Arts Strategic Planning Task Force.

Thomas and his wife, Wendy, reside in Granite Bay with their two daughters.



ORIN ANDERSON
Vice President, Ticket Sales and Services

Orin Anderson enters his second season as vice president of ticket sales and services for Maloof Sports & Entertainment. He is responsible for all aspects of season and group ticket sales for the Kings and Monarchs.

Anderson joined the organization after serving as the vice president and regional sales manager for Bank of America's Commercial Card Services Division, where he was responsible for growth and development in the Southwestern states of Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, and New Mexico.

Prior to Bank of America, Anderson spent seven years with the Phoenix Suns. During his tenure with the Suns, Anderson held a number of positions with the organization's ticket sales office, including responsibilities in group sales, ticket sales, and ticket services. In addition to the Suns, he also held ticket sales responsibilities for the Phoenix Mercury (WNBA), Phoenix Coyotes (NHL), Phoenix Smash (World Team Tennis), Arizona Rattlers (Arena Football), Arizona Sandsharks (indoor soccer), and America West Arena.

A native of Denver, Colorado, Anderson holds a bachelor's degree in business administration/management from Fort Lewis College. He and his wife, Melissa, reside in Sacramento.

DID YOU KNOW ... The Sacramento Kings were ranked #1 in the NBA in overall fan experience in 2001 and 2003 in a league-wide survey conducted every other year by J.D. Power and Associates.

MANAGEMENT TEAM

MIKE DUNCAN
Vice President, Arena Programming

Mike Duncan begins his third season as vice president of arena programming. He is responsible for booking all ARCO Arena events. No stranger to the organization, Duncan has held numerous positions over his 19-year association with the club. Most recently, he served as the team's vice president of arena operations.

Duncan joined the organization in 1985 as the Kings' director of community relations and promotions, a position he held for the club's first three years in Sacramento. He also spent two seasons (1988-90) as the arena booking manager prior to being promoted.

A native of Sacramento, Duncan graduated from the University of Oregon in 1980 with a degree in journalism/public relations. He worked as the sports information director at California State University, Sacramento for five years (1980-85) before coming to ARCO Arena. He and his wife, Ivy, reside in Carmichael with their son, Paul (9).

BLAKE EDWARDS
Vice President, Strategic Alliances

Entering his third season as the club's vice president of strategic alliances, Blake Edwards is responsible for building corporate relationships for Maloof Sports and Entertainment.

Edwards spent six years with the Arizona Diamondbacks where he held such titles as director of sales and marketing and vice president of sales before accepting a position with Major League Baseball as vice president of sponsorship for their internet group, MLB Advanced Media. Edwards began his career with the Phoenix Suns where he worked as a sales manager and account executive over an eight-year span. In addition to the Suns, he had responsibilities with the America West Arena, the Arizona Rattlers (Arena Football), the Arizona Sandsharks (indoor soccer), and the Phoenix Smash (World Team Tennis).

A native of Tucson, Arizona, Edwards earned a bachelor's degree in marketing in 1987 and a master's of business administration in 1994 from Arizona State University. He and his wife, Kendall, and three sons, Cade (4), Carson (3), and Crew (infant), reside in Granite Bay.

TOM PETERSON
Vice President, Service Development

Tom Peterson is in his fourth season as vice president of service development, but has been associated with the franchise since the club moved to Sacramento. He joined the arena management team in 1985.

Peterson is responsible for creating and implementing a fully integrated service strategy through the existing organization. He is involved in special projects relating to the image of the facilities, products, and personnel.

Serving as the vice president of food and beverage for 15 years, Peterson was involved in the design and set-up of concessions operations at both the original ARCO Arena and the current facility. Prior to joining the Kings, he worked with the City of Sacramento Parks and Recreation Department as well as in the rendering industry.

Peterson is currently on the board of directors for the National Batten Disease Research and Support Association. A native of Sacramento, he graduated from Christian Brothers High School and California State University, Sacramento. Peterson and his wife, Nancy, have a son, David, and daughter, Ellen.

DID YOU KNOW ... With over 150 full-time and 1,000 part-time team members, Maloof Sports & Entertainment is one of the 25 largest employers in the Sacramento area. The Maloof Sports & Entertainment Human Resources Department receives over 8,000 resumes and applications annually for employment opportunities in the areas of food and beverage, security, parking, landscaping, maintenance, event services, audio/visual, janitorial, merchandising, and engineering as well as positions in the front office and box office.

MANAGEMENT TEAM

JOHN RINEHART
Vice President, Finance

John Rinehart enters his fourth season with Maloof Sports and Entertainment as vice president of finance. In his role, Rinehart oversees all financial accounting and business operations of the Kings, Monarchs (WNBA), and ARCO Arena (concerts, family shows, and other events). His responsibilities include contract negotiation, player contract compliance and analysis (NBA Tax and Escrow system), financial analysis, financial reporting, budgeting, financing administration, legal affairs, insurance, and tax requirements. Additionally, Rinehart is responsible for the company's human resources, information systems, purchasing, and ticket service departments.

Prior to joining the Kings, Rinehart spent two years as the director of finance for Anaheim Sports, Inc., where he oversaw the finance and accounting functions of the Anaheim Angels (MLB), Anaheim Mighty Ducks (NHL), and Edison International Field of Anaheim. He also spent two seasons as manager of financial reporting for the San Francisco Giants (MLB). Prior to beginning his career in professional sports, Rinehart spent five years with the public accounting firm Price Waterhouse Coopers LLP in San Francisco.

Rinehart graduated with a bachelor's degree in accounting from Villanova University in 1991. He and his wife, Barbara, reside in the Land Park area of downtown Sacramento with their 10-month old daughter, Kaitlyn.

DONNA RUIZ
Vice President, Human Resources

Entering her third season as Maloof Sports and Entertainment's vice president of human resources, Donna Ruiz's chief responsibility is to ensure that all human resources related strategic objectives are met. Her daily duties include overseeing recruiting, employee relations, performance consulting, safety, compensation and benefits administration, and training and development.

Currently in her fourth year with the organization (joined the club as director of human resources), Ruiz has a total of 21 years of human resource management experience, and is certified as a senior professional in human resources (SPHR) with the Society for Human Resource Management.

A graduate of California State University, Sacramento with a bachelor's degree in organizational communications, Ruiz and her husband, Tom, have two grown children, Marianne and Michael.

MARK STONE
Vice President, Arena Services

Mark Stone enters his third season as vice president of arena services for Maloof Sports and Entertainment. He is responsible for overseeing various departments throughout ARCO Arena, including food and beverage, merchandising, security, parking, maintenance, engineering, and event staff. Currently in his fourth year with the organization, Stone spent his first season as the club's vice president of food and beverage/merchandise.

Prior to his appointment with Maloof Sports and Entertainment, Stone held the position of director of food and beverage operations for Entertainment Arena in Raleigh, North Carolina, home to the NHL's Carolina Hurricanes and the North Carolina State basketball program. He played an integral part in the opening of the building in 1999.

A seasoned veteran in the food and beverage business, with over 23 years of experience, Stone served as the director of suites and special services for the Buffalo Sabres (NHL) for three years. Prior to that, he spent 10 years as the regional director of operations for Sportservice Corp. The Boston Garden, Tiger Stadium, Ralph Wilson Stadium (Buffalo Bills), the Fleet Center (Boston), and HSBC Bank Arena (Buffalo) were among the venues he was responsible for overseeing.

Stone received a bachelor's degree from the University of Buffalo in Buffalo, New York, where he was born and raised.

1949-50 Playoffs

Tied with Minneapolis for Central Division Title

Semifinals (0-2)	March 23	Rochester	84	vs.	Fort Wayne	90
	March 25	Rochester	78	@	Fort Wayne	79 (1 OT)

Team Notes

- The Royals' .971 (33-1) home winning percentage is the second highest in NBA history behind the 1985-86 Boston Celtics (.976, 40-1).
- Rochester and Minneapolis finished the regular season with matching 51-17 records, but the Lakers were awarded the division championship after defeating the Royals, 78-76, in a one-game playoff in Rochester at season's end.
- From November 11, 1949 through February 7, 1950, the Royals posted 23 consecutive home victories, the most in franchise history.
- The Royals won their final 15 games of the season to set the franchise record for consecutive wins in a season. The 1950-51 Royals opened the following season with three victories to extend the win streak to 18 games, which ties as the fourth longest string in NBA history.
- Coach Les Harrison's squad posted a .750 winning percentage, which ties with his 1948-49 team as the winningest club in franchise history.

A CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

The Royals (41-27) routed New York (36-30) in the first two games of the championship series by scores of 92-65 and 99-84, then narrowly defeated the Knicks on their home court 78-71 to capture a 3-0 series lead. However, New York squelched the possibility of a four-game sweep by beating the Royals, 79-73, in Game 4 at Madison Square Garden. The Knicks forced a deciding seventh game after winning games five and six by scores of 92-89 and 80-73, respectively.

The Edgerton Sports Arena in Rochester was the site of Game 7, considered to be one of the most exciting in NBA history. The contest was close throughout and was not decided until the final minute of play. The Royals' Bob Davies sank two free throws with 40 seconds to play to give Rochester a 77-75 lead. After a defensive stand, Jack Coleman's layup in the final seconds secured the only NBA title in Royals-Kings history. Davies, Arnie Risen, and Bobby Wanzer combined for 57 points and 27 rebounds to lead the Royals to the victory in Game 7.

Team Notes

- Forward Arnie Risen, who ranked ninth in the league in scoring (15.6 ppg) and fourth in rebounding (12.7 rpg), appeared in his first of four consecutive All-Star games. Bob Davies also earned his second straight All-Star bid and Bobby Wanzer, the league leader in free throw percentage (.904, 377-417) in 1951-52, also made his first of five straight appearances in the contest.

- The defending champion Royals led the league in total regular season victories (41) and most home wins (28).

- On February 24, 1952, Rochester defeated the Baltimore Bullets, 124-100, at the Edgerton Park Sports Arena en route to setting the then-NBA record for most points in a single game.

Team Notes

- In the first and only division round robin playoff format in NBA history, the Royals eliminated the Fort Wayne Pistons on March 21, 1954. The Royals later lost in the Division Finals to the Minneapolis Lakers, two games to one.
- On January 21, 1954, Bob Davies, Arnie Risen, and Bobby Wanzer represented the Royals in the fourth NBA All-Star Game. The three combined for 38 points, 14 rebounds, and 11 assists in the Western Division's 98-93 loss.
- Bobby Wanzer, who led the team in scoring (13.3 ppg), was the only Royals player to be selected to the All-NBA team. For his third consecutive second-team honor, Wanzer received $100 from the league. First-team selectees received a $200 bonus.

Team Notes

- Playing with a squad comprised of seven rookies, first-year player-coach Bobby Wanzer finished the regular season with a record of 31-41, only two games back of Minneapolis for second place in the Western Division. The two-game deficit also left the Royals out of the playoffs for the first time in franchise history.
- Maurice Stokes earned NBA Rookie of the Year and second-team All-NBA honors after averaging team-highs of 16.8 ppg (11th in NBA), 16.3 rpg (2nd in NBA), and 4.9 apg (9th in NBA). Stokes, who grabbed a then-club record 38 rebounds in a contest versus Syracuse on January, 14, 1956, also started for the Western Division in the 1956 NBA All-Star Game, played at the War Memorial and Exhibit Hall in Rochester.
- Rookie forward Jack Twyman ranked 13th in the NBA in scoring (14.4 ppg) and 11th in field goal percentage (.422).

Team Notes

- The Royals finished the regular season with a record of 31-41, but were only three games out of the three-way tie for the Western Division title between St. Louis, Fort Wayne, and Minneapolis, all 34-38.
- Second-year forward Maurice Stokes led the league in rebounding (17.4 rpg), while finishing third in assists (4.6 apg) and 13th in scoring (15.6 ppg) to earn second-team All-NBA honors. His 1,256 rebounds set a then-NBA record for most caroms in a single season.
- Stokes, forward Jack Twyman, and guard Richie Regan represented the Royals on the Western Division team in the 1957 NBA All-Star Game. Stokes scored 19 points and grabbed a game-high 12 rebounds, while Twyman and Regan combined for seven points, four rebounds, and two assists.
- The franchise relocated from Rochester, New York to Cincinnati, Ohio. The new home of the Royals was to be the 14,000-seat Cincinnati Gardens.

1957-58 Playoffs

Third Place in Western Division

Semifinals (0-2)	March 15	Cincinnati	93	@	Detroit	100
	March 16	Cincinnati	104	vs.	Detroit	124

Team Notes

- Maurice Stokes and Jack Twyman both were chosen to start for the Western Division at the 1958 NBA All-Star game in St. Louis. The duo combined for 28 points in the Western Division's 130-118 loss.

- On March 12, 1958, Stokes fell and hit his head against the hardwood floor in a game versus the Minneapolis Lakers and was removed from the game after being revived with smelling salts.

- On March 15, 1958, Stokes was rushed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Covington, Kentucky, following a plane flight after the Royals' playoff loss to the Pistons in Detroit (100-93). Stokes was later diagnosed with post-traumatic encephalopathy (brain injury damaging motor-control center), suffered from his fall three days earlier. Stokes was an invalid for several years while enduring physical and speech rehabilitation and therapy programs.

- On October 21, 1958, the Royals played an exhibition game at the Cincinnati Gardens that raised $10,000 towards Stokes' medical costs. Jack Twyman, who also was Stokes' legal guardian after the accident, spearheaded the fund-raising effort.

Team Notes

- On December 1, 1958, Head Coach Bobby Wanzer was replaced by player-coach Thomas Marshall after the Royals started the season 3-15. Under Marshall's guidance, Cincinnati compiled a 16-38 record to finish the season with a record of 19-53 (.263), which ties with 1959-60 as the fewest wins in franchise history.
- Royals captain Jack Twyman ranked second in the league in scoring with 25.8 ppg.
- On February 28, 1959, Twyman scored a season-high 50 points in a 124-122 overtime victory versus the St. Louis Hawks.
- The Royals played in a pair of triple overtime contests in 1958-59, defeating Minneapolis on December 6, 1958, 132-128, before falling to Syracuse, 145-138, on January 8, 1959.

Team Notes

- The Royals finished with a record of 19-56 (.253), the lowest winning percentage in franchise history.
- The club's 14-game losing streak between January 16 and February 10, 1960 ties as the longest such streak in franchise history.
- Forward Jack Twyman earned second-team All-NBA honors after averaging 31.2 ppg and 8.9 rpg. Twyman's 2,338 points at the time were the second most in NBA history behind Walt Chamberlain's total of 2,707, also that season.
- On January 15, 1960, Twyman scored a franchise record 59 points en route to a 122-118 win versus the Minneapolis Lakers.
- On April 25, 1960, Thomas Marshall resigned from his post as head coach after registering a record of 35-94 (.271) with the Royals. Charles Wolf was later hired to succeed Marshall.
- With the first overall pick in the 1960 NBA Territorial Draft, the Royals selected University of Cincinnati standout and eventual NBA Hall of Famer Oscar Robertson.

Team Notes

- Despite winning nine of their final 16 games, the Royals finished the regular season with a record of 33-46, just one game behind Detroit (34-45) in the race for the final playoff bid.
- NBA Rookie of the Year and first-team All-NBA selectee Oscar Robertson nearly averaged a triple-double in his first season with the Royals (30.5 ppg, 10.1 rpg, 9.7 apg). Robertson's scoring average ranks third in league history among rookies and his 690 assists marked a then-NBA single season record.
- Robertson captured the franchise's first NBA All-Star MVP trophy in the 1961 game in Syracuse, New York, leading the Western Division team to a 153-131 victory with 23 points, nine rebounds, and 14 assists in 34 minutes.
- Royals led the league in field goal percentage (.438) and set a then-NBA record by scoring 100 or more points in 64 consecutive games and 76 of 79 contests. The club's 117.9 ppg is the third highest scoring average in franchise history.
- Veteran forward Jack Twyman ranked fifth in the league in scoring (25.3 ppg) and was second in field goal percentage (.488) behind Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain (.509).

Team Notes

- Cincinnati won nine of its final 13 games of the season to advance to the playoffs after a three-year absence from post-season play.
- The Royals scored 100-plus points in 78 of the 80 regular season games, ranking second in the league in scoring with a franchise record 123.1 ppg. Coach Charley Wolf's squad also pulled down a franchise record 70.8 rpg.
- On December 6, 1961 the Royals began a 79-game streak in which the club would score 100 or more points (streak ended 12/6/62)
- Averaging a triple-double (30.8 ppg, 12.5 rpg, 11.4 apg), Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors and made his second appearance in the All-Star Game. Robertson ranked third in the league in scoring, eighth in rebounding, and first in assists.
- On October 29, 1961, Robertson dished out a franchise record-tying 22 assists in a 139-132 win versus Syracuse.
- At season's end, the NBA approved divisional realignment, moving the Royals into the Eastern Division with Boston, New York, and Syracuse.

Team Notes

- After posting back-to-back winning seasons and a three-year record of 118-121 (.494), Charley Wolf resigned from his post as the club's head coach. Former Rochester Royals guard and St. Louis Hawks Head Coach Jack McMahon was later hired to replace Wolf.
- For the third consecutive season, Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors and played in the All-Star Game.
- With the second overall pick in the 1962 NBA Territorial Draft, the Royals selected Ohio native and three-time Ohio State all-American Jerry Lucas, who would go on to a Hall of Fame career in the NBA.

Team Notes

- Despite winning eight of their final 11 games, the Royals finished with their first sub-.500 record since 1960-61. At season's end, Jack McMahon resigned as head coach to accept the post of general manager and head coach with the expansion San Diego Rockets. University of Cincinnati Head Coach Ed Jucker was hired to succeed McMahon, who finished his Royals tenure with a record of 187-134 (.583).
- Oscar Robertson was named first-team All-NBA for a seventh consecutive season after ranking second in the league in scoring (30.5 ppg) and assists (10.7 apg) with 6.2 rpg. Jerry Lucas earned second-team All-NBA honors, ranking third in the league in rebounding (19.1 rpg) while averaging 17.8 ppg.
- Robertson and Lucas represented the Royals at the All-Star game in San Francisco, combining for 33 points, nine rebounds, and seven assists in the Eastern Division's 135-120 loss.
- Guard Adrian Smith converted 343-of-380 (.903) charity attempts to lead the league in free throw percentage. Smith's percentage trails only Bobby Wanzer's 1951-52 mark of .904 (377-417) in the franchise's all-time annals.

Team Notes

- Despite winning eight of the final 12 games, the Royals finished the regular season with a record of 39-43, falling just one game shy of Detroit (40-42) for the final playoff berth.
- For the eighth consecutive year, Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors, averaging 29.2 ppg (6th in NBA), 6.0 rpg, and 9.7 apg (3rd in NBA). Jerry Lucas also was voted to the first-team for the third time in his career after averaging 21.5 ppg (8th in NBA) and 19.0 rpg (2nd in NBA).
- Robertson and Lucas helped lead the Eastern Division to a 144-124 victory in the All-Star Game in New York, as the duo combined to total 34 points, six rebounds, and nine assists.
- On November 24, 1967, the Royals defeated the expansion Seattle SuperSonics, 153-133, tying the then-club record for points in a game. Coach Ed Jucker's squad finished the 1967-68 campaign with 12 130-plus-point performances en route to averaging 116.6 ppg for the season.
- In a late season trade, General Manager Pepper Wilson acquired guard-forward Tom Van Arsdale and forward John Tresvant from the Detroit Pistons, in exchange for Harold "Happy" Hairston and Jim Fox.

Team Notes

- Despite posting a 41-41 mark, the Royals did not advance to the playoffs, finishing sixth in the Eastern Division.
- Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors for the ninth straight year, averaging 24.7 ppg (5th in NBA), 6.4 rpg, and a league-leading 9.8 apg. Robertson also won the All-Star Game MVP trophy for the third time in his career, leading the Eastern Division to a 123-112 victory with 24 points, six rebounds, and five assists.
- Jerry Lucas ranked sixth in the league in rebounding (18.4 rpg) and second in field goal percentage (career-best .551) while averaging 18.3 ppg.
- On March 13, 1969, Jack Twyman and Bob Cousy were the first inductees into the Royals Hall of Fame. Cincinnati fans were asked to vote on their favorite Royals player (Twyman) and their favorite opposing player (Cousy-Celtics). The Royals Hall of Fame, located inside the Cincinnati Gardens, was the first club-based memorial in the NBA.
- At a press conference on May 9, 1969, Royals owner Max Jacobs announced that Hall of Fame player Bob Cousy would take over the club's head coaching position, replacing Ed Jucker, who registered an 80-84 (.488) mark in two seasons at the Cincinnati helm.

Team Notes

- Coach Bob Cousy's first Royals squad finished fifth in the Eastern Division with a record of 36-46.
- Oscar Robertson completed his 10th and final season as a member of the Royals averaging 25.3 ppg, 6.1 rpg, and 8.1 apg to earn second-team All-NBA honors. The 'Big O' also made his 10th consecutive appearance in the All-Star Game, registering 21 points, six rebounds, and four assists in the Eastern Division's 142-135 victory in Philadelphia.
- On April 21, 1970, Robertson was traded to the Milwaukee Bucks for guard Flynn Robinson and forward Charlie Paulk.
- Only 10 days into the season (Oct. 25, 1969), Jerry Lucas was traded to the San Francisco Warriors for guard Jim King and forward Bill Turner.
- On March 12, 1970, the Royals defeated the San Diego Rockets, 165-151, marking the highest combined point total (316 pts.) in franchise history. The 165-point outburst also stands as the franchise record for the most points in a single game.
- On April 11, 1970, guard Bob Davies was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. Davies, a five-time All-NBA honoree (1949-53) and four-time All-Star (1951-54) selection, averaged 14.3 ppg and 4.4 apg in seven seasons with the Rochester Royals.
- With the fifth overall pick in the 1970 NBA Draft, the Royals selected New Mexico State center Sam Lacey. In the second round, General Manager Joe Axelson drafted Texas-El Paso guard Nate "Tiny" Archibald with the 19th overall selection. Lacey and Archibald both went on to enjoy outstanding tenures with the franchise, including a Hall of Fame career for "Tiny."

Team Notes

- Despite winning seven of the final 11 games of the season, the Royals failed to qualify for the playoffs with a record of 33-49.
- All-Star forward Johnny Green reached the 10,000-point plateau in his 12th year in the NBA. Green, who was the Royals' second leading scorer in 1970-71 (16.7 ppg), also led the NBA in field goal percentage for the second consecutive season (.587).
- Forward Tom Van Arsdale led the Royals and ranked 10th in the NBA in scoring (22.9 ppg).
- Second-year guard Norm Van Lier led the league in assists with 10.1 apg. Van Lier also was a second-team All-Defensive team selection.
- Royals rookies Sam Lacey and Nate Archibald combined to average 29.5 ppg, 14.2 rpg, and 6.9 apg.
- Coach Bob Cousy's squad registered 100-plus points in all but four games as the Royals ranked third in the NBA in scoring (116.0 ppg). The Running Royals scored 130-plus-points 11 times, capped by a 146-112 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers on January 5, 1971, in their soon to be home of Omaha, Nebraska. Johnny Green led the way in the win with 34 points, countering a 41-point, 23-rebound showing by Wilt Chamberlain.

Team Notes

- Prior to the 1971-72 season, the franchise was purchased by a group of 10 Kansas City businessmen for over $5 million. The new ownership group opted to relocate the franchise to Kansas City and rename the club the Kansas City-Omaha Kings. The Kings made their KC debut in 1972-73, playing 26 games in Kansas City at the Municipal Auditorium (9,929) and 15 in Omaha at the Civic Auditorium (9,136).
- The Royals completed their final season in Cincinnati with a 30-52 mark, winning eight of the final 12 games of the season.
- Second-year guard Nate Archibald earned second-team All-NBA honors after averaging 28.2 ppg and 9.2 apg to rank second and third, respectively, in the league in those two categories. Archibald also became only the third player in franchise history to score over 2,000 points in a single season – the previous being Oscar Robertson (seven times) and Jack Twyman (1959-60).
- From December 12, 1971 to January 9, 1972, the Royals lost a franchise record-tying 14 straight games, but followed the stretch with five wins in the next six games.
- On March 26, 1972, the Royals played their final game under the original namesake, and came away with a 135-122 victory at Cleveland.

Team Notes

- In the franchise's first season in Kansas City-Omaha, the Kings registered a record of 36-46. At home, the club posted marks of 14-12 (.538) in Kansas City and 10-5 (.666) in Omaha.
- With 18 games to play in the regular season, the Kings were in playoff contention with a 31-33 record, but Bob Cousy's squad dropped 13 of the remaining contests.
- Guard Nate "Tiny" Archibald became the first franchise player to earn first-team All-NBA honors since Oscar Robertson accomplished the feat in his first nine seasons (1961-69) in the league. Archibald led the NBA in scoring (34.0 ppg) and assists (11.4 apg), becoming the first player in league history to top the league in both categories.
- Archibald made his first of six All-Star Game appearances, tallying 17 points and five assists in the West's 104-84 loss in Chicago.
- Archibald scored 40-plus points in 18 games and dished out 20-plus assists on three occasions. On December 15, 1972, he totaled 41 points and a career-high 21 assists in a 140-132 overtime win versus Detroit.
- President and General Manager Joe Axelson received the NBA Executive of the Year award given by The Sporting News.

Team Notes

- With a series of three coaching changes, the Kings finished well out of the playoff race with a record of 33-49. Bob Cousy resigned as head coach on November 21, 1973 with a record of 6-16 and assistant Draff Young assumed the role on an interim basis for three games (0-3). Phil Johnson was hired on a permanent basis on November 29, 1973, and produced a 27-30 record the rest of the way, leading the Kings to six victories in the final eight games of the season. Cousy's resignation concluded a five-year stint with the franchise (141-209).
- Playing with two homecourts for the second consecutive season, the Kings registered a 13-14 (.481) record in Kansas City and a 7-7 (.500) mark in Omaha.
- All-Star guard Nate Archibald played in only 35 of 82 games, suffering from a sore right Achilles Tendon throughout the season.
- University of Minnesota forward Ron Behagen earned first-team All-Rookie honors after averaging 11.0 ppg and 7.1 rpg. Behagen was the Kings' first-round selection (#7 overall) in the 1973 NBA Draft.
- Sam Lacey blocked a then-franchise record 184 shots (2.33 bpg), ranking eighth in the league. Lacey also ranked seventh in the NBA in rebounding (13.4 rpg).

Team Notes

- The Kings struggled to a record of 31-51, dropping nine of the final 10 games of the season. Playing its final games in Omaha, the franchise posted a 3-3 (.500) mark at the Civic Center compared to a 22-13 (.628) record at Kemper Arena in Kansas City.
- For the second consecutive season, Nate Archibald earned first-team All-NBA honors after registering averages of 24.8 ppg (4th in NBA) and 7.9 apg (2nd in NBA). Archibald also totaled 13 points, five rebounds, and seven assists in the West's 123-109 loss at the All-Star Game in Philadelphia.
- Second-year forward Scott Wedman was selected to play in his first NBA All-Star game, tallying eight points and seven rebounds.
- Sam Lacey was one of only four centers (Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Dave Cowens, and Wes Unseld) in 1975-76 to score over 1,000 points (1035) and grab over 1,000 rebounds (1024). Lacey finished finished fifth in the league in rebounding average (12.6 rpg).
- On September 10, 1976, Hall of Fame guard Nate Archibald was traded to the New Jersey Nets for guards Brian Taylor and Jim Eakins and first-round draft choices in 1977 and 1978 (Otis Birdsong and Phil Ford).
- On August 5, 1976, the Kings selected St. Louis guard Ron Boone in the first round of the ABA's Dispersal Draft. In the second round, the club selected St. Louis guard Mike Barr.

Team Notes

- The Kings fell out of playoff contention in the final two weeks of the regular season before finishing with a 40-42 record. With 10 games to play the Kings held a four-game lead over Chicago for the final Western Conference playoff berth, but Phil Johnson's squad dropped eight straight road games while the Bulls won seven of their final 10 games overall to finish 44-38.
- Although Kansas City was the official home of the Kings, the club played six games at the Civic Center in Omaha, going 3-3 in those contests compared to 25-10 at Kemper Arena in Kansas City.
- From March 1 to March 17, 1977, the Kings won seven consecutive games, which ties as the second longest stretch in the KC-Sacramento era.
- Former ABA standout guard Ron Boone led the team and ranked 11th in the league in scoring, averaging 22.2 ppg.
- Guard Brian Taylor ranked second in the NBA in steals (2.76 spg), totaling a franchise record 199 steals.
- For the first time in his career Sam Lacey did not pull down an average of 10.0-plus rpg, but the seventh-year center still managed to lead the team with 9.0 rpg.
- With the second overall pick in the 1977 NBA Draft the Kings selected Houston guard Otis Birdsong.

Team Notes

- Just short of the midway point in the season, Head Coach Phil Johnson (13-24) was replaced by former Kings player and then-assistant general manager Larry Staverman. Staverman finished the season on an interim basis posting an 18-27 mark. Johnson, who later would return for a three-year stint with the club in the mid-1980's, compiled a 155-185 (.456) mark in his first five seasons with the franchise.
- The club posted a 20-15 (.571) home record at Kemper Arena in Kansas City and a 2-4 (.333) mark at the Civic Center Arena in Omaha.
- Forward Scott Wedman led the club in scoring (17.7 ppg), followed closely by guard Ron Boone (17.7 ppg) and rookie guard Otis Birdsong (15.8 ppg). Forward Richard Washington paced the team in rebounding (8.3 rpg).
- On May 10, 1978, the Kings named Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons as head coach. One month later, Fitzsimmons hired Frank Hamblen as an assistant coach. Hamblen had worked under Larry Staverman earlier in the season on an interim basis.
- With the second overall pick in the 1978 NBA Draft, the Kings selected North Carolina guard Phil Ford.

	April 20	Kansas City	111	vs.	Phoenix	91
	April 22	Kansas City	93	@	Phoenix	108
	April 25	Kansas City	94	vs.	Phoenix	108
	April 27	Kansas City	99	@	Phoenix	120

Team Notes

- On April 4, 1979, the Kings clinched the Midwest Division Championship with a 115-111 overtime win versus the Los Angeles Lakers. The division title was the club's first since the Rochester Royals won the 1951-52 Western Division championship. The Kings finished the regular season with a 48-34 record, winning the final five games of the campaign.
- Cotton Fitzsimmons was named the NBA's Coach of the Year, as voted by the media.
- Guard Phil Ford earned Rookie of the Year honors and a second-team All-NBA berth. Ford averaged 15.9 ppg, 2.3 rpg, 8.6 apg (4th in NBA), and 2.20 spg (5th in NBA) in 79 games as the Kings' starting point guard.
- On February 21, 1979, Ford tied Oscar Robertson's assist record with 22 in a 133-117 win versus Milwaukee.
- On June 4, 1979, the roof caved in at Kemper Arena because of a heavy rainstorm with 70 mph downward winds. Although there was extensive structural damage, no one was injured. Home games were played at the 9,333-seat Municipal Auditorium until Kemper was completely repaired.

Team Notes

- In a tight Midwest Division race, the Milwaukee Bucks (49-33) nipped the Kings (47-35) by two games.
- From December 12 to December 19, 1979, the Kings won a KC-Sacramento era record eight consecutive games.
- Forward Scott Wedman earned second-team All-Defensive honors. Wedman averaged 19.0 ppg, 5.7 rpg, 2.1 apg, 1.24 spg, and 0.66 bpg in 68 games.
- Wedman and guard Otis Birdsong, who led the team in scoring with 22.7 ppg (9th in NBA), were named to the Western Conference All-Star squad. Birdsong scored two points in the West's 136-114 overtime loss in Landover, MD. Wedman was unable to play in the contest because of a fracture under his left eye, but was presented with the Michelob League Humanitarian Award at halftime.
- On February 20, 1980, Kemper Arena was re-opened, nine months after the roof collapsed, as 16,886 fans packed into the arena for the rededication ceremonies. In that evening's contest, Phil Ford's 18-foot jumper at the buzzer defeated Seattle, 107-105.
- On April 1, 1980, Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas were inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Team Notes

- Prior to the season on June 9, 1981, the Kings exercised their right of first refusal and matched Cleveland's offer for guard Otis Birdsong, then promptly traded him (along with a 1981 second-round draft pick, #44 overall) to the New Jersey Nets for Cliff Robinson. An hour later, the Kings also received Cleveland's 1981 first-round draft selection (#17 overall, LaSalle Thompson) for not exercising their right of refusal in matching the Cavs offer for forward Scott Wedman.

- On November 12, 1981, the Kings traded 12-year veteran center Sam Lacey to New Jersey for forward Mike Woodson and one of the Nets' 1982 first-round draft choices (#17 overall, Brook Steppe).

- Without All-Stars Birdsong, Wedman, and Lacey, the Kings finished fourth in the Midwest Division with a record of 30-52.

- Rookie center Steve Johnson ranked second in the league in field goal percentage (.613).

- On April 30, 1982, Executive Vice President and General Manager Jeff Cohen resigned after holding the position for only 13 months. Joe Axelson was rehired as general manager after signing a five-year contract.

- On May 14, 1982, the franchise's ownership group was restructured so that only three of the original partners remained—Leon Karosen, Paul Rosenberg, and Bob Margolin.

Team Notes

- The season came to a screeching halt on April 17, 1983, as the Kings lost at Denver, 125-116. Both the Kings and Nuggets finished the regular season with 45-37 records. The NBA's first tie breaker was head-to-head competition in which the two teams split the season series, 3-3. Denver won on the second tie breaker with a 34-26 Western Conference record compared to Kansas City's 31-29 mark. The Kings closed the season as the hottest team in the league, winning 13 of the final 16 games, but the season-ending loss was the difference.

- Kings guard Larry Drew and Philadelphia center Moses Malone were named co-winners of the NBA Player of the Month award for December. Drew averaged 22.5 ppg and 10.3 apg in leading the Kings to a 9-5 mark in December. For the season, Drew led the club in scoring (20.1 ppg) and assists (8.1 apg).

- On February 20, 1983, guard Mike Woodson scored a career-high 48 points (22-of-24 FG) in 32 minutes in a 128-106 win versus the Houston Rockets. The 22 field goals made ties as the franchise record (Jack Twyman and Nate Archibald also registered 22 FGM each).

- On May 2, 1983, Jack Twyman, a six-time NBA All-Star (1957-63) who averaged 19.2 ppg and 6.6 rpg in 11 seasons with the Rochester and Cincinnati Royals, became the fourth Basketball Hall of Fame inductee in franchise history.

Team Notes

- On June 8, 1983, the Kings franchise was sold to a group from Sacramento for cash and assumption of obligations totaling $10.5 million dollars. The new owners were Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Robert A. Cook, Stephen H. Cippa, and Frank McCormack.
- Minutes before the trading deadline (February 15, 1984), the Kings acquired two-time NBA All-Star guard Reggie Theus from the Chicago Bulls for third-year forward Steve Johnson and three second-round draft selections (Indiana's 1984, Kings' 1985, and Seattle's 1985).
- On May 10, 1984, Head Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons resigned to accept a position with the San Antonio Spurs. Fitzsimmons closed out his tenure with the Kings with a record of 248-244 (.504).

Team Notes

- On May 15, 1984, Jack McKinney was named head coach to replace Cotton Fitzsimmons.
- General Manager Joe Axelson extended the club's first-ever free agent offer sheet to veteran center Paul Mokeski on July 11, 1984. However, on July 24, 1984, under the right of first refusal, the Milwaukee Bucks matched the offer sheet for Mokeski, thus retaining his rights.
- In a surprise announcement on November 18, 1984, Jack McKinney resigned as head coach and former Kings mentor Phil Johnson was named as his successor, signing a three-year deal. McKinney finished with a record of 1-8.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill made a formal application to the NBA to relocate the franchise to Sacramento on January 21, 1985.
- On April 3, 1985, the NBA announced the special committee appointed to decide the Kings relocation to Sacramento recommended approval of the move to the NBA's Board of Governors.
- On April 11, 1985, the Kings played their final game in Kemper Arena before a crowd of 11,371, falling to the Los Angeles Lakers, 122-116.
- On April 16, 1985, in a meeting in New York, the NBA's Board of Governors voted unanimously in favor of relocating the Kings franchise to Sacramento.

Team Notes

- With the seventh overall pick in the 1985 NBA Draft (June 18), the Kings made Arkansas forward Joe Kleine the club's first draft selection in the Sacramento era.
- On August 20, 1985, the Atlantic Richfield Company (ARCO) and the Sacramento Sports Association, owners of the Kings and the Sacramento Sports Arena, agreed to a 10-year sponsorship contract which included naming the facility ARCO Arena.
- On October 25, 1985, the LA Clippers defeated the Kings, 108-104, before a sold out crowd of 10,333 at ARCO Arena in the first regular season professional basketball game played in Sacramento.
- Kings clinched a berth in the Western Conference playoffs on April 5, 1986 with a 119-110 victory versus Phoenix.
- On April 19, 1986, in the second game of a first round Western Conference playoff matchup, the Houston Rockets defeated the Kings, 113-98, before a standing room only crowd at ARCO Arena. The Rockets went on to defeat the Kings, 3-0, in the series and advance to the NBA Finals before losing, 4-2, to the Boston Celtics.

Team Notes

- Prior to the 1986-87 campaign, Kings officials announced the franchise had achieved a season ticket base of 9,600.
- Second-year forward Otis Thorpe received EDGE/NBA Player of the Week honors (Jan. 11-18) after averaging 23.3 ppg on .685 field goal shooting in leading the team to victories over Portland (120-118) and Seattle (125-115).
- With a 14-32 record, Head Coach Phil Johnson and Assistant Coach Frank Hamblen were relieved of their duties on February 9, 1987. Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named interim head coach and former Kings guard Don Buse was named interim assistant coach.
- On April 22, 1987, the NBA Board of Governors granted the Kings a one-year extension on their request to delay completion of ARCO Arena II until the 1988-89 season. A divisional realignment was also announced, moving the Kings from the Midwest Division into the Pacific Division, beginning in 1988-89.
- On April 27, 1987, the Kings named NBA Hall of Fame center Bill Russell as head coach, effective June 1, 1987. Willis Reed joined the staff as an assistant coach on May 23, 1986.
- On May 19, 1987, Sacramento Basketball Banquet I was held honoring local high school, junior college, and collegiate basketball players and coaches, including California standout guard and Sacramento High School graduate Kevin Johnson. Otis Thorpe was selected by the media as the Kings Player of the Year. Jim Pollard was chosen as the California Basketball Legend and Indiana University Head Coach Bobby Knight was the keynote speaker.
- With the sixth overall selection in the 1987 NBA Draft, the Kings selected North Carolina guard Kenny Smith.

Team Notes

- In his Sacramento coaching debut (Nov. 6, 1987), Bill Russell guided the Kings to a 134-106 victory over the Golden State Warriors at ARCO Arena.
- On February 29, 1988, Assistant Coach Willis Reed resigned from his post with the Kings to accept the head coaching duties with the New Jersey Nets.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the Kings basketball staff on March 7, 1988. Head Coach Bill Russell, with a 17-41 record, was named vice president of basketball operations, Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named head coach, and General Manager Joe Axelson was named vice president of business operations. Reynolds immediately chose former Kings coach Phil Johnson as his assistant. That evening, the Kings defeated the Denver Nuggets, 116-114, in overtime at ARCO Arena.
- Guard Kenny Smith earned All-Rookie honors after averaging 13.8 ppg, 2.3 rpg, and a team-leading 7.1 apg.
- In a Draft Day trade (June 28, 1988), the Kings acquired Atlanta's 1988 first-round draft choice (#18 overall) and guard Randy Wittman in exchange for guard Reggie Theus and the Kings' 1988 third-round choice. With the No. 18 pick, the Kings selected San Jose State guard Ricky Berry.

Team Notes

- On November 8, 1988, the long awaited debut of ARCO Arena II became a reality when the Kings hosted the Seattle SuperSonics, losing 97-75 before a sold-out crowd of 16,517. NBA Commissioner David Stern participated in the dedication cermony.
- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Kings-Trail Blazers contest on December 27, 1988, Head Coach Jerry Reynolds collapsed on the sidelines. He lay unconscious for several minutes before doctors revived him and immediately transported him to Sutter Memorial Hospital for further observation. Doctors dismissed cardiac problems, diagnosing the cause of the fainting and dizziness due to a sudden postural change. Reynolds missed the following night's game in Utah, but returned to practice two days later.
- On February 20, 1989, the Kings acquired Indiana forward Wayman Tisdale and the Pacers' 1990 second-round draft choice in exchange for forward LaSalle Thompson and guard Randy Wittman.
- On May 21, 1989, Sacramento won the NBA Lottery's grand prize by receiving the first overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. Approximately one month later (June 27), the Kings selected 6-10 Louisville center Pervis Ellison with the No. 1 choice.

Team Notes

- On August 14, 1989, guard Ricky Berry was found dead in his home from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, just months after the conclusion of a rookie campaign in which he averaged 11.0 ppg, 3.1 rpg, and 1.3 apg.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the club's management and basketball staff on December 19, 1990. Executive Vice President of Business Operations Rick Benner was named president of the Kings and ARCO Arena. Head Coach Jerry Reynolds assumed the position of director of player personnel and would eventually relinquish his coaching position. Bill Russell was released from his position as vice president of basketball operations.
- On January 4, 1990, NBA veteran Dick Motta, the third-winningest head coach in NBA history, replaced Reynolds as the Kings head coach. Reynolds compiled a 56-114 (.330) record in three stints as Kings head coach.
- Kings guard Kenny Smith finished second to Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins in the Gatorade Slam Dunk contest during NBA All-Star Weekend in Miami. Smith's appearance marked only the second time since the club moved to Sacramento in 1985 a player represented the Kings in the All-Star festivities. (Terry Tyler in '86 slam dunk contest was the first).
- The Kings made NBA history at the 1990 NBA Draft (June 27, 1990), becoming the first team to select four first-round draft choices—LaSalle forward Lionel Simmons (#7 overall), Texas guard Travis Mays (#14 overall), Temple center Duane Causwell (#18 overall), and St. Louis forward Anthony Bonner (#23 overall).

Team Notes

- Forward Lionel Simmons was named Rookie of the Month for December, averaging 13.6 ppg, 7.4 rpg, and 4.6 apg for the month.
- On January 10, 1991, the Kings lost 101-59 at Charlotte, marking the lowest scoring output by a team since February 27, 1955 when Milwaukee scored 57 points at Boston.
- Simmons received the NBA Player of the Week award (Feb. 10-17) after leading the Kings to a 2-1 record for the week by averaging 33.3 ppg (.563 FG, .833 FT), 11.7 rpg, and 4.7 apg.
- Simmons was honored with his second Rookie of the Month award after averaging 24.1 ppg, 11.7 rpg, and 4.5 apg in 11 games in February.
- With a 112-94 loss at Minnesota on April 15, 1991, the Kings set an NBA record for consecutive road losses (35).
- Kings closed out the 1990-91 road schedule with a 127-105 loss at Portland on April 19, 1991, extending the club's NBA record for consecutive road losses to 37.
- Lionel Simmons finished second to New Jersey's Derrick Coleman in Rookie of the Year balloting. Simmons was a consensus first-team All-Rookie selection, while teammate Travis Mays was named to the second team.

Team Notes

- On July 1, 1991, the Kings acquired 5-7 point guard Spud Webb and the Hawks' 1994 second-round draft pick in exchange for guard Travis Mays.
- On the eve of the 1991-92 season (Nov. 1), the Kings acquired Golden State guard Mitch Richmond, center Les Jepsen, and the Warriors' 1995 second-round draft choice in exchange for unsigned 1991 draft pick Billy Owens (#3 overall).
- On November 23, 1991, the Kings defeated Orlando, 95-93, ending an NBA record 43-game road losing streak.
- After opening the season with a 7-18 record, Head Coach Dick Motta was fired from his post on December 24, 1991. Assistant Coach Rex Hughes was named interim head coach and Kings regional scout and former player Mike Bratz was named interim assistant coach. Motta was 48-113 (.298) in his stay with the Kings.
- On April 6, 1992, a prominent group of Los Angeles based real estate developers purchased 53 percent of the franchise and ARCO Arena for $140 million. The group was headed by Jim Thomas of Maguire-Thomas Partners, one of the nation's largest investment builders, and included Eli Broad, Robert Maguire III, Ned Fox Jr., and Richard Gilchirst.
- On May 22, 1992, the club announced the promotion of Director of Player Personnel Jerry Reynolds to general manager and the hiring of Garry St. Jean as the 17th head coach in franchise history. Mike Schuler and Dave Wohl were named assistant coaches.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 45th season in franchise history with a record of 25-57 (16-25 home, 9-32 away).
- Defeated San Antonio, 114-106, on Opening Night (11/6/92) at ARCO Arena in Garry St. Jean's head coaching debut.
- Snapped a 43-game regular season losing streak at the Great Western Forum that dated back to 1974 with a 124-114 win over the Lakers.
- Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since 1981 to be named to an All-Star Game squad. However, Richmond was unable to participate in the contest due to a fractured right thumb suffered versus Atlanta (2/11/93).
- Guard-forward Walt Williams earned second-team All-Rookie honors after averaging 17.0 ppg, 4.5 rpg, 3.0 apg, and 1.12 spg.
- Club lost 150 player games to injury over the course of the campaign, including 115 in the final 50 games of the season. Of the 150 player games lost to injury, 95 came to Opening Night starters Mitch Richmond (37), Duane Causwell (26), Lionel Simmons (13), Spud Webb (13), and Wayman Tisdale (6).
- Defeated Dallas, 139-81, at ARCO Arena, marking the largest margin of victory (58 points) in franchise history (12/29/92). Just four nights later (1/2/93), the Kings defeated Philadelphia by 56 points, 154-98, at ARCO Arena to register the largest margins of victory in back-to-back games in NBA history.

Team Notes

- Kings posted a 28-54 record in 1993-94, a three-game improvement over the 1992-93 campaign (25-57).
- Sacramento finished ahead of the Los Angeles Clippers (27-55) in the Pacific Division standings, marking the first time since 1988-89 that the Kings did not finish at the bottom of their division.
- Guard Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since Otis Birdsong in 1980-81 to earn All-NBA honors when he was voted to the second team. Richmond ranked seventh in the NBA in scoring (23.4 ppg) in the regular season, while also avearging 3.7 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.32 spg.
- Richmond also became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start an NBA All-Star Game, tallying 10 points, two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the West squad in the 44th Annual affair in Minneapolis, MN.
- Kings were stricken by the injury bug throughout the season, losing 226 player games to injury or illness, the third highest total in the NBA in 1993-94 and the second most in the Sacramento-era. The rash of injuries forced Head Coach Garry St. Jean to utilize 20 different starting combinations over the course of the season.

Team Notes

- Kings registered a 39-43 regular-season record, marking the franchise's most victories in a season since 1982-83 (45-37). Sacramento finished fifth in the Pacific Division, and missed advancing to the NBA Playoffs by just one game after falling 102-89 at Denver (4/23/95) on the final day of the regular season in a winner-take-all battle for the eighth and final Western Conference Playoff berth.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 22.8 ppg, 4.4 rpg, 3.8 apg, and 1.11 spg. Richmond's 22.8 ppg led all guards in scoring and ranked eighth in the NBA.

- Richmond was named MVP of the 45th Annual All-Star Game in Phoenix, scoring a game-high 23 points (10-13 FG, 3-3 3pt, 0-0 FT) with four rebounds and two assists in only 22 minutes off the bench to lead the Western Conference to a 139-112 victory over the East. The 10-for-13 (.769) shooting performance is the third best in All-Star history.

- Forward Brian Grant was named to the NBA's First-Team All-Rookie squad, averaging 13.2 ppg (.511 FG%), 7.5 rpg, and 1.45 bpg. Grant earned Schick Rookie of the Month honors for January after averaging 15.8 ppg (.511 FG%), 9.7 rpg, and 2.13 bpg in helping lead the Kings to a 9-6 mark.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 49th season in franchise history and the 12th in the Sacramento-era with a regular-season record of 34-48, finishing sixth in the Pacific Division and ninth overall in the Western Conference. The 34 victories were the fourth most in the Sacramento-era. With a 22-19 mark at ARCO Arena, the Kings posted a winning record at home for the third straight season.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 25.9 ppg, 3.9 rpg, 4.2 apg, and 1.46 spg. Richmond ranked fourth in the NBA in scoring while also ranking 34th in assists, 34th in steals, fifth in three-point percentage, 14th in free throw percentage, and 22nd in minutes.

- Eddie Jordan took over the head coaching reins from Garry St. Jean on 3/20/97. The Kings posted a 6-9 mark under Jordan, including a late playoff run in which the club registered a 5-3 mark in the final eight games of the season. St. Jean compiled a 159-236 (.402) record in five seasons as Kings head coach (1992-93 — 1996-97).

- Kings accepted a $70 million dollar loan from the City of Sacramento and a revised signage and promotional package from ARCO Products Company to remain in Sacramento on 2/18/97.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 50th season in franchise history and the 13th in the Sacramento-era with a regular-season record of 27-55, finishing fifth in the Pacific Division and ninth overall in the Western Conference. With a 21-20 mark at ARCO Arena, the Kings posted a winning record at home for the fourth straight season.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Third-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 23.2 ppg, 3.3 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.26 spg. Richmond ranked fourth in the NBA in scoring while also ranking 35th in assists, 28th in three-point percentage, 10th in free throw percentage, 40th in steals, and 30th in minutes.

- The Maloof family of Albuquerque, New Mexico acquired a minority limited partnership in the team and ARCO Arena on 1/14/98.

DID YOU KNOW ... The Kings last season won 55 or more games for the third straight season (2000-01 - 2002-03), becoming the 19th team in NBA history to accomplish the feat. Kings Head Coach Rick Adelman became only the third coach in NBA history to win 55 or more games in three or more consecutive years with two different teams. Adelman, who coached the Portland Trail Blazers to three 55-plus win seasons from 1989-90 to 1991-92, joined Miami's Pat Riley (L.A. Lakers and New York) and the Los Angeles Lakers' Phil Jackson (Chicago and L.A. Lakers).

LES HARRISON — BASKETBALL PIONEER

The 1979 Basketball Hall of Fame inductee class included Les Harrison (left) and former Royals players Jerry Lucas (center) and Oscar Robertson (right).

The Sacramento Kings organization would like to pay tribute to the late Les Harrison who passed away in December of 1997 at the age of 93. As owner, general manager, and coach, Harrison was the driving force behind the Rochester Royals in the early days of the National Basketball League (NBL). In three seasons in the NBL, Harrison led the Royals to a 99-43 record, three NBL finals, and league titles in 1946 and 1947. With the signing of Dolly King in 1946, Harrison played a role in breaking the minority barrier in professional basketball. Following the 1948-49 season, in which the Royals played in the Basketball Association of America (BAA), Harrison led the effort to merge the NBL and BAA into the current National Basketball Association (NBA). Under Harrison's direction, the Royals won the franchise's lone NBA title in 1951, defeating the New York Knickerbockers 4-3 in the Finals. Harrison posted a franchise-best .620 winning percentage (295-181) in seven NBA seasons, which ranks eighth all-time in the league entering this season. In a crowning achievement to his career, Harrison was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

NICKNAME & LOGO TRANSITION

The Rochester National Basketball League franchise was originally nicknamed the Royals in 1946 after 15-year-old Richard Paeth's entry beat out 500 other suggestions in a name the team contest. For his winning entry, Paeth, a native of Rochester, received a $100 Victory Bond from team president/manager Les Harrison. When the franchise moved to Cincinnati before the 1957-58 campaign, the ownership decided to maintain the Royals moniker. However, when the franchise moved to Kansas City prior to the 1972-73 season, it needed a new nickname because the name Royals was already being used by the city's Major League Baseball team. Wanting to keep the "Royal" theme, the club decided on the nickname of Kings.

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled the franchise's current primary logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati. Following is a chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' primary logo over the franchise's 55-year history:

Rochester Royals
1948-49 — 1956-57

Kansas City Kings
1975-76 — 1984-85

Cincinnati Royals
1957-58 — 1970-71

Sacramento Kings
1985-86 — 1993-94

K.C.-Omaha Kings
1972-73 — 1974-75

Sacramento Kings
Unveiled May 22, 1994

A GAME 7 THRILLER FOR THE NBA TITLE

The Sacramento Kings' lone franchise NBA World Championship came in 1951 when the then-Rochester Royals defeated the New York Knickerbockers in seven games. Following is the game story and box score of the Royals' thrilling 79-75 Game 7 victory over the Knickerbockers as it appeared in the New York Times.

By Leonard Koppett

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 21 — Proving once again that free throws are more important than field goals, the Rochester Royals won the National Basketball Association championship before 4,200 spectators at the arena tonight by beating the New York Knickerbockers, 79 to 75, in the seventh game of the final play-off series. The Royals had won the first three games, the Knicks the next three.

Just how completely dependent Rochester's victory was on its foul line steadiness is clear in the chronology and statistics of the game. Bob Davies broke a 75-all tie with forty-four seconds to play when he sank two free throws after being fouled by Dick McGuire while driving to the basket; and in all, the Royals made twenty-nine out of thirty-seven free-throw attempts while New York sank only seventeen out of twenty-five. The Knicks had four more baskets, twenty-nine to twenty-five.

The fouls brought about New York's defeat in another way, too. Both its centers, Nat Clifton and Connie Simmons, fouled out in the last quarter, when the Knicks took the lead for the first time after trailing by as much as fourteen points in the first half. Meanwhile Arnie Risen, Rochester's center who took top-scoring honors with 24 points and scored the deciding basket before Davies made his free throws, committed his fourth foul twenty-two minutes before the game ended and played unpenalized the rest of the way.

Clifton, Simmons Foul Out

With Clifton and Simmons out, the Knicks were unable to control the jump balls that followed each foul in the last three minutes, so that their doom was really sealed when Risen made his last basket. New York was ahead, 74 to 72, when Simmons fouled out with two minutes left. Risen made the toss, then jumped against Ernie Vandeweghe and, when Rochester got possession, Arnie's hook shot put the Royals ahead, 75 to 74. Boryla tied it up a moment later but Rochester then froze the ball until Davies drove in.

Before the final minutes, the Knickerbockers' made another of their typical comebacks that marked their play all season long. The most "overtime" club in the league, they qualified for the final by coming from behind in their final game against Syracuse, and, after losing the first three to Rochester, trailed in each of the three games they won.

Tonight, trying to perform the ultimate in comebacks, they started by falling behind, 13 to 3. By the end of the first quarter they were up to 22 to 16, but a few minutes later Rochester led, 32 to 18. The Knicks battled back to within four points but trailed, 40 to 36, at halftime.

Knicks Finally Take Lead

In the third quarter they climbed to within three, then two, and were behind, 62 to 60, entering the last quarter. They finally achieved a 69-all tie midway through the period and took the lead for the first time, 71 to 70, with four minutes to go. Both times Gallatin converted under-the-basket feeds from McGuire.

McGuire added a foul half a minute later and the teams alternated free throws until Simmons fouled out against Risen. Rochester's final basket, with two seconds left, was a lay-up by Coleman after a successful freeze had settled matters.

Lou Eisenstein and Stan Stutz, the officials, charged the Knicks with thirty-two personals and the Royals with twenty-two. Splitting each team's total evenly between the two halves. Very few fouls were called against Rochester, however, in the play under the boards, where the Royals emerged with a 48-to-41 edge in rebounds. Clifton's fifth personal was particularly unfortunate for the Knicks, since it came while Rochester was holding the ball at mid-court. He was called for bumping Risen while moving into position. A minute and a half later he fouled out.

Coaches Voice No Complaints

No complaints were voiced about the officials, however, either by Knick coach, Joe Lapchick, or Rochester coach, Les Harrison, who, after Rochester's loss in New York Wednesday, found Eisenstein unsatisfactory and asked that he be replaced for tonight's game.

By their victory, the Royals earned $7,500 to add to their previous winnings and wound up with $13,250 in play-off money to divide up. The Knicks finished with $2,500 less and the satisfaction-disappointment of one of basketball's greatest near-misses.

SERIES NOTES

- Atlanta has won 25 of the 34 regular season meetings in the Sacramento-era, including 13-of-18 over the past 10 seasons.
- Kings guard Mike Bibby and Atlanta forward Shareef Abdur-Rahim were teammates in Vancouver for three seasons (1998-99 – 2000-01). Bibby teamed with Hawks guard Jason Terry to help lead the University of Arizona to the 1997 NCAA Championship.
- Kings Assistant Coach John Wetzel played three seasons for Atlanta (1972-73 — 1974-75), averaging 3.7 ppg, 2.1 rpg, and 1.6 apg in 161 contests with the Hawks.
- The Kings' 92-91 win on 3/20/02 at Philips Arena snapped a 12-game losing streak to the Hawks in Atlanta. The Hawks have won 15 of the last 17 games played between the two teams in Atlanta.
- Sacramento has won the last three contests against the Hawks at ARCO Arena after having dropped the previous four matchups.
- The Kings selected Gonzaga's Dan Dickau with the 28th overall pick in the 2002 NBA Draft and then traded his draft rights to the Hawks for a future first-round pick.
- At the 2003 NBA All-Star Weekend in Atlanta, Peja Stojakovic successfully defended his three-point title, becoming the fifth player to win back-to-back three-point crowns.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings swept the two-game season series for the fourth straight season after not meeting the Bulls during the 1998-99 campaign due to the NBA lockout.
- Sacramento has won the last eight contests against the Bulls after dropping the previous six.
- Chris Webber and Bulls guard Jalen Rose were teammates and part of the Fab Five for two seasons at the University of Michigan (1991-92 & 1992-93).
- Kings Head Coach Rick Adelman played for Chicago (1973-74 and beginning of 1974-75) before being traded to the New Orleans Jazz. Assistant Coach Elston Turner played two seasons for the Bulls (1996-87 & 1987-88).

SERIES NOTES

- Kings split the regular season series with the Pistons after having swept the seasons series the previous three years. The teams did not meet in 1998-99 due to the NBA lockout after splitting the season series each of the previous five years.
- Sacramento has won eight of the last nine meetings against the Pistons, including the last six contests at ARCO Arena.
- Kings forward Chris Webber is averaging 21.3 ppg (.481 FG%, .649 FT%), 9.9 rpg, and 3.8 in 21 career games against his hometown team (Webber played collegiately for the University of Michigan, 1991-92 and 1992-93. He was a prep All-American at Detroit County Day High School.)
- Webber and Detroit forward Ben Wallace were teammates for two seasons (1996-97 and 1997-98) at Washington.
- Pistons Head Coach Larry Brown coached Kings guard Mike Bibby on the undefeated (10-0) gold medal-winning Team USA in the 2003 FIBA Americas Olympic Qualifying Tournament in San Juan, Puerto Rico.
- Pistons Assistant Coach Mike Woodson played for Kings (1981-82 - 1985-86), averaging 16.3 ppg, 2.8 rpg, 2.5 apg in 387 games.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings have won 30 of the 36 series contests against Golden State over the past nine campaigns.
- Sacramento has won the last 14 meetings against Golden State, including 18 of the last 19 contests against the Warriors at ARCO Arena. The Kings' 14-game winning streak over the Warriors is the longest against any opponent.
- Kings grabbed a season-high 66 rebounds on 3/18/03 versus Golden State. The 66 rebounds were also an NBA season-high for a non-overtime game.
- Kings forward Chris Webber began his NBA career in Golden State after being traded from Orlando on Draft Day (6/30/93). In his first NBA season, Webber was named Rookie of the Year after averaging 17.5 ppg, 9.1 rpg, 3.6 apg, 1.22 spg, and 2.16 bpg in 76 games for the Warriors.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings split the season series (2-2) in 2002-03 after having swept the previous two. Sacramento has won the last eight contests against the Rockets at ARCO Arena.
- Rockets recorded only two personal fouls in the first half on 12/1/02, setting a Kings opponent record for least fouls in a half. In that same contest, Chris Webber recorded his 12,000th career point on a lay-up with 2:32 left in the first quarter and Gerald Wallace tallied a career-high 21 points (10-11 FG, 1-2 FT).
- The Maloof family, which owns and operates the Kings, held that same distinction with the Rockets from 1979 through 1982, which included Houston's 1981 trip to the NBA Finals where they were defeated by Boston.
- Kings defeated the Rockets 122-116 at the original ARCO Arena (10/31/85) to record the team's first win of the Sacramento-era.
- Sacramento shot a franchise-record .654 (51-78) from the field in a 125-109 win on 3/20/01. Kings began the game hitting their first 14 field goal attempts.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings split the season series (2-2) with the Lakers after having lost the last three series.
- Kings Doug Christie (1992-93 & 1993-94), Vlade Divac (1989-90 — 1995-96), and Anthony Peeler (1992-93 — 1995-96) are former Lakers. Divac was selected by the Lakers in the first round (26th pick overall) of the 1989 NBA Draft. Peeler was a first round (15th overall) selection by the Lakers in the 1992 NBA Draft.
- Sacramento ended the Lakers' NBA-record playoff road win streak at 12 games with a 96-90 win in Game 2 of the Western Conference Finals on 5/20/02 at ARCO Arena.
- Game 7 of the 2002 Western Conference Finals between the Kings and Lakers marked the first overtime game in a conference final in NBA history.
- The Kings' comeback from a 12-point deficit for a 105-99 win on 12/25/02 at the STAPLES Center marked the Lakers' largest lead in defeat during the 2002-03 regular season.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings split the regular season series (1-1) for the second time in three campaigns.
- Kings' 101-97 win on 12/10/00 marked the biggest comeback ever at ARCO Arena. Sacramento rallied from a 24-point second quarter deficit.
- Kings center Vlade Divac teamed with Heat guard Eddie Jones for two seasons (1994-95 & 1995-96) while members of the LA Lakers.
- Heat forward Brian Grant was drafted by the Kings (eighth overall) in the 1994 NBA Draft. Grant averaged 13.4 ppg (.501 FG%), 7.1 rpg, 1.4 apg, and 1.34 bpg in 182 games in his first three NBA seasons with the Kings.
- Heat Head Coach Pat Riley coached Vlade Divac (LA Lakers, 1989-90) and Doug Christie (New York, 1994-95).
- Kings have not reached the 100-point plateau in the last nine contests versus the Heat. The last time the Kings hit the century mark was on 11/22/96 versus Miami.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings split the season series (1-1) with the Magic for the second straight year.
- Sacramento has won the last eight meetings against the Magic at ARCO Arena.
- Kings guard-forward Doug Christie teamed with Magic guard-forward Tracy McGrady for three seasons in Toronto (1997-98 — 1999-00).
- Chris Webber was originally selected by Orlando with the first overall pick in the 1993 NBA Draft, but his rights were traded on Draft Day (6/30/93) to Golden State for the rights to guard Anfernee Hardaway and 1996, 1998, 2000 first-round draft choices.
- As a Raptor, Kings guard-forward Doug Christie recorded a career-high 35 points (13-25 FG, 3-6 3pt, 6-8 FT), nine rebounds, one assist, and four steals on 2/27/98 at Orlando.
- Magic guard-forward Tracy McGrady is averaging 22.6 ppg (.441 FG%, .754 FT%), 7.4 rpg, 3.8 apg, 1.50 spg, and 1.00 bpg in 10 career contests versus the Kings.
- Kings guard Bobby Jackson totalled 48 points (.724 FG%, .429 3pt%, 3-3 FT) in the two games against the Magic in 2002-03. In his career, Jackson is averaging 13.6 ppg (.500 FG%, .308 3pt%, .889 FT%), 3.0 rpg, and 3.3 apg in nine games versus Orlando.

SERIES NOTES

- The Kings recorded the franchise's 2,000th win with a 95-86 win over Phoenix at ARCO Arena on 12/17/02.
- Chris Webber recorded a triple-double with 29 points, 15 rebounds, and 11 assists on 12/21/02 at America West Arena.
- Kings guard Mike Bibby is from Phoenix, where he attended Shadow Mountain High School. Bibby helped guide the University of Arizona Wildcats to the 1997 NCAA Championship.
- Kings Assistant Coach John Wetzel was head coach of the Suns in 1987-88 after an eight-year stay (1979-80 – 1986-87) as an assistant coach with the team. Wetzel also played for the Phoenix Suns for three seasons (1971-72 – 1972-73 & 1975-76).
- Sacramento's 100-89 win on 3/7/01 at Phoenix marked the biggest comeback in the Sacramento-era. The Kings battled back from a 28-point second quarter deficit.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings won both games at Portland in 2002-03 for the first time in the Sacramento era and first time since the 1970-71 season.
- Sacramento has won four of the last five games at home against Portland.
- Kings won the season series (3-1) for the second time in the last three seasons after having been swept the previous two.
- Kings President, Basketball Operations Geoff Petrie and Head Coach Rick Adelman formed the Trail Blazers' starting backcourt for three seasons (1970-71 — 1972-73). Petrie was Portland's first-ever draft selection in 1970. Petrie, who was the NBA's co-Rookie of the Year in 1971, averaged 21.8 ppg, 2.8 rpg, and 4.6 apg in six seasons with Portland before his playing career was cut short due to injuries. Petrie was an All-Star for the Trail Blazers in both 1971 and 1974. Adelman averaged 9.8 ppg, 2.8 rpg, and 4.6 apg in three seasons with the Blazers. Adelman also coached the Blazers for four seasons (1990-91 – 1993-94). Assistant Coach John Wetzel served as an assistant coach for the Blazers for six seasons (1988-89 – 1993-94). Vice President Wayne Cooper averaged 6.1 ppg, 5.0 rpg, and 1.24 bpg in four seasons with Portland (1982-83 & 1983-84, 1990-91 & 1991-92).

SERIES NOTES

- San Antonio won the season series (3-1) for the first time since the 1998-99 (1-2) season.
- The Spurs were the only team to win two games against the Kings at ARCO Arena during the 2002-03 season.
- Kings tied an NBA record and set a franchise record for fewest turnovers in a game with two on 12/8/02 at San Antonio. Sacramento also matched a franchise mark for fewest turnovers in a half (1).
- Doug Christie tied a Sacramento-era record with eight steals on 12/8/02 at San Antonio. Also in that game, Vlade Divac recorded his 12,000th career point.
- Eleven of the last 17 meetings between the Kings and Spurs have been decided by six points or less and five of those games have gone into overtime.
- Spurs forward-guard Hedo Turkoglu was selected by the Kings in the first round (#16 overall) of the 2000 NBA Draft and averaged 7.5 ppg (.420 FG%, .757 FT%), 3.4 rpg, 1.4 apg in 221 games for the Kings (2000-01 - 2002-03).
- Kings center Brad Miller and Spurs forward Ron Mercer were teammates in Chicago (2000-01) before both of them were traded to Indiana (2/19/02).
- San Antonio's Tim Duncan is averaging 25.1 ppg (.513 FG%, .722 FT%), 14.7 rpg, 2.7 apg, and 2.21 bpg in 23 career games against Sacramento.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings split the season series (1-1) with the Raptors after having swept the last two. Sacramento has won six of the last seven contests overall, including the last five at ARCO Arena.
- With the 119-84 win over Toronto on 3/14/02, the Kings became the fourth Western Conference team in NBA history to win all their home games against the East. The Kings were 15-0 versus the East at ARCO.
- In 2002-03, Toronto set a new NBA record for most games missed due to injury or illness with 519 player games. Sacramento finished second with 328.
- Chris Webber recorded a triple-double with 24 points, 19 rebounds, and 10 assists on 1/26/02 at Toronto.
- Kings acquired guard-forward Doug Christie from Toronto in exchange for forward Corliss Williamson on 9/29/00. Christie averaged 14.2 ppg, 4.6 rpg, and 3.5 apg in four seasons with the Raptors (1996-97 — 1998-99).
- Kings guard Mike Bibby and Raptors guard-forward Vince Carter were teammates this past summer on Team USA which went undefeated (10-0) en route to a gold medal in the 2003 FIBA Americas Olympic Qualifying Tournament.
- Toronto's Vince Carter is averaging 23.1 ppg (.413 FG%, .848 FT%), 5.6 rpg, 3.0 apg, and 1.13 spg in eight games versus the Kings.

SERIES NOTES

- Kings have won nine of the last 11 series meetings over the last six campaigns.
- Sacramento acquired forward Chris Webber from Washington for guard Mitch Richmond and forward-center Otis Thorpe on 5/14/98.
- Webber averaged 20.9 ppg (.501 FG%, .560 FT%), 9.6 rpg, and 4.4 apg in 212 games spanning four seasons with Washington (1994-95 – 1997-98).
- Of Webber's seven triple-doubles as a King (17 career), two are against his former team (17 pts., 10 reb., and 10 ast. on 2/25/99 at Washington and 25 pts., 11 reb., and 10 ast. on 12/4/99 at Washington).
- Wizards guard-forward Jerry Stackhouse's brother, Tony Dawson, played for the Kings in 1990-91.
- Wizards Head Coach Eddie Jordan coached the Kings for the last 15 games of the 1996-97 season and the entire 1997-98 season.
- Washington attempted a 2002-03 season-high 97 field goals on 2/11/03 at Sacramento.
- Sacramento's 57 rebounds on 2/11/03 was a Wizards' opponent season-high.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Sacramento Kings are dedicated to making a positive and meaningful difference in the lives of people in-need and at-risk in the Sacramento region. With literacy as a top priority, Joe and Gavin Maloof have forged a strong working partnership with local literacy centers and area school districts.

The Maloof family's community efforts received a #1 ranking across the league in both 2001 and 2003 through the J.D. Power and Associates NBA fan survey, which is conducted every other year. In addition, Joe and Gavin Maloof were the inaugural winners of the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives for 2001 and the team's efforts were recognized with the 2002 Pro Team Humanitarian Award. Information regarding the Sacramento Kings Community Service programs may also be found on www.kings.com with the most up-to-date details for teachers, students, and parents.

GEORGE J. MALOOF SR. COMMUNITY CUP

Joe and Gavin Maloof have annually dedicated the first home game of the preseason as the "George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup." Each season, the Maloof family will donate at least $100,000 of proceeds from the Community Cup game to a local charitable community improvement project. This year's game is scheduled for Tuesday, October 7, 2003 with proceeds benefiting the St. Patrick's Home for Children.

"Our father was a very community-oriented man, both in his professional and personal life. By dedicating our first home game each year to a long-term charitable commitment to children and families in-need, we feel we are recognizing and honoring our father's beliefs in the importance of giving back to the community," said Joe Maloof. Gavin Maloof added, "Our entire family sees community service as a major priority for the Kings organization. We are dedicated to assisting those in-need in our community. This annual event is a great way to tip-off each new Kings season."

Last year's George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup benefited the La Familia Counseling Center. Other recipients include the Sacramento Asian Sports Foundation for the construction of a new Community Cultural and Youth Sports Center, Hemispheres, an after-school arts program partnership with the Sacramento City Unified School District, and the refurbishment of Airport Little League fields in South Sacramento.

MALOOF SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT STRATEGIC INITIATIVES

LITERACY CENTERS

The Kings work hands on in the community by refurbishing and building local literacy centers. Locations may include, but are not limited to, school and public libraries, computer rooms, and non-profit community centers. Volunteers from Maloof Sports and Entertainment adopt rooms or buildings in need of upgrades for students to read and study. In addition to the Reading & Learning Center improvements, the Kings also hold a book donation drive during the month of December, offering a way for fans to join the Kings in their literacy efforts. This year's Reading and Literacy center will open in October 2003 at the Samuel Pannell Meadowview Community Center in South Sacramento. Last year the first such Reading and Literacy center was opened in November 2002 at the Dos Rios Housing Community Center in downtown Sacramento.

KINGS READING TEAM CHALLENGE

The Kings and Pepsi have joined together to encourage youth to make reading a daily habit. Kids may pick up a Kings Reading Team Challenge scorecard at various locations in the Sacramento area, including participating libraries, schools, and ARCO Arena. The goal is for students to read as a team for a total of 100,000 minutes. Each successful youth who returns a completed scorecard by reading 20 minutes a day for 20 days will receive a special prize. Kings players and staff will make personal appearances at various locations throughout this season to promote the importance of literacy.

The Kings and Pepsi will also offer a classroom challenge for students and teachers. Last season, the Kings Classroom Reading Challenge was an enormous success with 3,100 students reading over 4.6 million pages.

TEACHER APPRECIATION NIGHT

Each year the Sacramento Kings recognize the top teachers in Sacramento County. This year's outstanding group of teachers and educators will be recognized on February 3, 2004. Each teacher will be invited to attend a Kings game with recognition at halftime on behalf of a grateful community. NECA/IBEW and Health Net join the Kings in recognizing these teachers by providing each of them with a financial grant towards their classroom and profiling each teacher on a Kings radio broadcast. Two teachers will also be chosen for a very special visit from a Kings player to their classroom. The Teacher Appreciation Program is made possible through the support of the Sacramento County Office of Education, NECA/IBEW, and Health Net.

ST. HOPE ACADEMY

Former NBA player and Sacramento native Kevin Johnson founded the St. HOPE Academy in his childhood neighborhood of Oak Park to instill the life lessons taught to him by his grandparents. At the Academy, children continue to be instilled with the same values he learned as a child: discipline, responsibility, and love. Because of Kevin's dedication to Oak Park and the shared vision with Maloof Sports and Entertainment to make a difference to at-risk and in-need families in Sacramento, Joe and Gavin Maloof announced a 10-year commitment to support Kevin's efforts in Oak Park during the 2001-2002 season. A total of $500,000 will be donated by Maloof Sports and Entertainment to support Kevin's project for the children in Oak Park.

Through partnerships such as this between Maloof Sports and Entertainment and St. HOPE, Joe and Gavin and the entire Maloof family hope to make a long-lasting and meaningful difference to the community of Sacramento.

JR. NBA/WNBA BASTKETBALL LEAGUE

The Kings and NBA are partners to support local recreation basketball leagues in the Sacramento area. Through a multi-year agreement, the partnership looks to support local leagues with league enhancements and incentives including coaches' clinics and recognition of local youth All-Stars. Mike Bibby will represent the NBA and Sacramento Kings as a National Spokesperson for the Jr. NBA/WNBA program. He will join Sacramento Monarchs player Ticha Penicheiro as local All-Star players.

KINGS WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION

Female relatives, wives, and significant others of the Kings players and coaches have created their own team to support the community. The Kings Women's Organization focuses its outreach efforts, awareness campaigns, and fundraising to support women and children in-need. Through projects such as the 2003 Kings Calendar, the organization raised over $32,000 for the WIND Youth Center to support its childcare programs and literacy center. Members also join players, employees, and community volunteers at Maloof Team Member Community Improvement Projects.

BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER
CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Last February, the Sacramento Kings and Crocker Art Museum joined Sacramento Kings All-Star forward Chris Webber in bringing his African-American memorabilia artifacts to the Sacramento community for a month long exhibit. Webber, who developed a passion for discovering and celebrating his cultural history as well as other ethnic groups, owns one of the most extensive and unique collections of African-American documents and books. Pieces include postcards from Malcolm X, autographed quotation from Frederick Douglas, and an edition of American slave Phyllis Wheatley's poems published in 1773. Each year, Maloof Sports & Entertainment celebrates the rich history and culture of African-Americans during Black History Month.

WELLS FARGO TEAM CAPTAIN OF THE WEEK

Special students are recognized during Kings games as a Wells Fargo "Team Captain of the Week." Once a week, students will be selected to present the game ball to the referees and represent the Kings as an honorary team captain. The student will also receive tickets to the game to enjoy all the action on the court. Students, teachers, and parents may pick up nomination cards at local Wells Fargo locations.

MALOOF TEAM MEMBER PROJECTS

Maloof Sports and Entertainment full-time and event team members participate side by side with the Maloof family in community projects, donating their hard work, expertise, and energy. Past projects include a site preparation for the 17th Avenue Park, currently known as the Bill Bean Park, building a new gateway to the Oak Park neighborhood at 14th Avenue and Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd., school improvements at Kit Carson Middle School, and renovation of Gardenland Park. Kings volunteers will also serve Thanksgiving dinner to hundreds with the TLC Soup Kitchen for the 10th consecutive year, along with the second annual Day of Holiday Giving, where Team Members fan out across the community to bring holiday cheer to families and children in need.

MEMORABILIA DONATIONS FOR LOCAL FUND RAISERS

Every year, Kings players and coaches autograph thousands of items for local raffles and auctions that help raise millions of dollars for Sacramento-area charities. Schools or non-profit organizations benefit from this great opportunity to offer a priceless autographed item or Kings merchandise for their fund-raising efforts. To receive a donation for your organization's next event, please send a request on letterhead at least 45 days in advance to: Kings Community Service, One Sports Parkway, Sacramento, CA, 95834. Include the date of the event, contact name, phone number, and address.

NBA COMMUNITY OUTREACH

The dedication of the NBA its teams and players to the improvement of local communities has a long history and tremendous reach. The League's implementation and execution of outreach based programs has impacted and inspired children and families to develop a life-long love of reading. The entire NBA family has placed reading and children's education at the forefront of its community work by donating millions of dollars, extensive resources and countless volunteer hours to the promotion and sponsorship of literacy initiatives.

With the Read to Achieve program, the NBA helps to positively impact the reading tendencies of millions of kids on a year-round basis. NBA teams, current and former players and coaches partner with schools and community centers to deliver the Read to Achieve message and to provide critical resources and support to local reading and education programs.

To connect with so many people and communities, Read to Achieve partners with the nation's longest-serving literacy organization, Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) and with the world's largest children's book publisher, Scholastic Inc. Together, over 300,000 books are donated annually through school assemblies, book fairs and at various reading events. In addition, a partnership with Dell provides a necessary focus on technology literacy and has resulted in the creation of more than 60 NBA Reading & Learning Centers. Places where children have access to books, technology and supportive reading programs in an encouraging and motivating environment.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are also dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in extraordinary ways. Through their foundations, camp efforts and charitable work, they make a difference for hundreds of non-profit and youth serving organizations. To honor players' outstanding community service accomplishments off the court each month, the NBA recently enhanced its Community Assist Award by announcing that all future winners would receive the David Robinson Plaque. The new award was first presented to the San Antonio Spurs legendary center last season to honor him for the standards he has set in supporting the community. The NBA and WNBA also present an annual Sportsmanship Award to one player at the conclusion of their respective seasons.

In addition to youth education, the NBA also supports numerous causes and organizations that positively impact communities including but not limited to The Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund, UNICEF, The National Wheelchair Basketball Association, The National Civil Rights Museum, Gallaudet University, and The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center.

ARCO ARENA — HOME OF THE KINGS

A sold out crowd of 10,333 witnessed the Kings' debut in Sacramento at ARCO Arena I on October 25, 1985. After three seasons in the temporary facility, the Kings played their first basketball game at the permanent ARCO Arena facility on November 8, 1988 before a then-capacity crowd of 17,014. The fans have continued to flock to ARCO Arena, which now seats 17,317 for basketball. In fact, over a 13-season stretch from 1985-86 to 1997-98 the Kings hosted an NBA-leading 497 consecutive sellouts at ARCO Arena. Prior to the start of the 2002-03 season, the Kings have sold out 179 consecutive games, the longest current sellout streak in the NBA.

Conveniently located near the intersection of I-5 and I-80, ARCO Arena is only five minutes from downtown Sacramento and 90 miles from the San Francisco Bay area.

Designed with a unique configuration for unparalleled sight lines to watch basketball, the 442,000 square-foot, $40,000,000 facility was built without taxpayer dollars. There are approximately 3,900 trees and over 8,000 shrubs on the 105 acres surrounding ARCO Arena with parking for up to 12,000 vehicles in the fully-lighted parking lot. Among the indoor amenities are concession stands throughout, featuring 80 service lines, four lounges overlooking the arena interior, eight locker rooms, 297 public toilets, and 24-hour security.

ARCO Arena adds to the local economy by employing as many as 1,200 full- and part-time workers during the basketball season. Arena patrons have come to the events hungry, consuming 5,000 gallons of soda and 170,000 hot dogs in just one year!

One of the busiest buildings of its kind in the United States, ARCO Arena hosts nearly 200 events and two million spectators annually. The facility has been home to numerous premier concert events, including nine sellout shows by country music superstar, Garth Brooks, who has attracted over 144,000 fans to his ARCO Arena concerts. Other top acts that have played ARCO Arena have included Paul McCartney, Eric Clapton, Pearl Jam, Elton John, Reba McEntire, and the Rolling Stones. In addition, more than 170,000 people attended the five-day Billy Graham Crusade in October of 1995 in the Crusade's only United States stop.

Other highlighted events at ARCO Arena have included the Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus, NHL Hockey, Arena Football, and the 1994, 1998, and 2002 First and Second Round Western Regional NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournaments. The versatile facility has hosted monster trucks, professional wrestling, and ice shows featuring the world's finest figure skaters.

ARCO Arena also is home to the Sacramento Monarchs of the Women's National Basketball Association. In their seventh campaign, the Monarchs continued to expand their fan base. On June 1, 2002, the Monarchs opened their regular season with the first sellout in team history.

MEDIA

KINGS BROADCAST NETWORK

In 1993, the Sacramento Kings made the decision to bring all of the club's broadcast activities in-house, forming what is currently known as the Kings Broadcasting Network. In addition to producing all of their own radio and television broadcasts, the Kings retain all advertising revenue from the broadcasts. The club's broadcast network also produces all pre- and postgame radio talk shows and one additional weekly radio show.

News10 (ABC) begins its second season as the Kings' flagship television station, and will broadcast 20 contests during the 2003-04 NBA regular season. The Kings Television Network also includes KRVU (UPN 21) serving Chico.

KHTK Sports 1140 AM is in its 10th season as the club's flagship radio station. Joining the 50,000 watt powerhouse on the ever-expanding Kings Radio Network will be stations in Auburn (KAHI-950 AM), Red Bluff (KBLF-1490 AM), Fresno (KCBL-1340 AM), Visalia (KVBL 1400 AM), Marysville (KMYC-1410 AM), Grass Valley (KNCO-830 AM), and Redding (KNRO-1670 AM). Kings home games also air in Spanish on KRCX (99.9 FM) in Sacramento.

Grant Napear, Jerry Reynolds, and Jim Kozimor, will call the Kings' action on News10. The longtime radio voice of the Kings, Gary Gerould, will handle play-by-play duties on KHTK (1140 AM), which will broadcast all of the Kings' games this season. Additionally, Armando Botello will call Kings home games in Spanish for the ninth season on KRCX (99.9 FM).

GARY GEROULD
Radio Play-By-Play

Gary Gerould has been the "Voice of the Kings" since the team's arrival in 1985 and will continue that tradition this season as radio play-by-play announcer on the club's flagship station KHTK (1140 AM). Gerould, who broadcast his 1,000th Kings game in 1998-99, is widely considered one of the best play-by-play announcers in all of sports broadcasting. He has called over 1,400 NBA games, placing him in the Top 10 in longevity among NBA broadcasters.

Gerould's workload is a direct testimony of his talent and work ethic. He called motorsports shows on ABC and ESPN during the past racing season and was seen internationally in over 150 countries. Most notably, Gerould has been the pit road reporter for the ABC Sports/ESPN broadcast team covering the Indy Racing League, including the Indy 500.

Gerould was a member of the Turner Broadcast Network telecast of the 1990 Goodwill Games in Seattle. Prior to joining ABC, Gerould spent 11 years at NBC and was a member of the network's coverage team at the XXIV Olympic Games in Seoul. He also served as a regular NFL play-by-play announcer in addition to his motor sports duties.

Gerould's broadcasting career dates back to his high school days in Midland, Michigan as a play-by-play announcer for the local radio station. He was recently inducted into the Midland Hall of Fame. A speech and physical education graduate of Anderson (Indiana) University, Gerould headed west to Chico, California in 1963 where he became the news and sports director at KHSL Radio.

In 1965, he moved to Sacramento and joined the sports department at KCRA-TV, where he worked for 12 years. During that span he also was the play-by-play announcer for Sacramento State football and basketball. In 1977, he formed Gary Gerould Enterprises and since then has freelanced as a public relations consultant, commercial spokesman, and motor sports writer and broadcaster.

He and his wife, Marlene, have a daughter, Beth, and a son, Bob, who also enjoys a career in professional sports broadcasting.

GRANT NAPEAR
Television Play-By-Play

Grant Napear returns for another season in front of the cameras, serving as the television play-by-play announcer for the Kings Broadcast Network. The 44-year-old Syosset, New York native has called Kings action as the team's play-by-play announcer from 1988-89 through 1993-94 and 1998-1999 to present, in addition to three campaigns (1995-96 - 1997-98) as the Kings' radio play-by-play announcer on KHTK (1140-AM). He is the current daily host for the top-rated afternoon sports talk show in the Sacramento area on KHTK.

Prior to joining the Kings Broadcast Network talent team on a full-time basis, Napear served as the sports director at the then-Kings' flagship television station, Channel 31, for nine years (1987-95). Napear's play-by-play experience includes working with ESPN Radio, the National Hockey League's San Jose Sharks, the Sacramento Gold Miners (1992-94), a former member of the Canadian Football League, and most recently with the San Jose Sabercats of the Arena Football League. During the 2003 NFL Preseason, Napear was the television voice for the Oakland Raiders.

Napear began his professional career as a weekend sports anchor at WAND-TV in Decatur, Illinois. He spent his collegiate years (1977-81) as the play-by-play announcer for the football, basketball, and hockey teams at his alma mater, Bowling Green University, while pursuing his degree in broadcast journalism. Napear and his wife, Sheri, reside in El Dorado Hills, with their two sons, Trent (7) and Chase (5).

JIM KOZIMOR
Kings Broadcaster

Jim Kozimor enters his sixth season as a member of the Kings Broadcast Network talent team. When not handling host duties for the club's weekly radio talk show, "Kings Talk," he will host the club's pregame and halftime shows, as well as serve as the sideline reporter for all television games. Additionally, Kozimor will be a sports reporter for the FOX Sports Net Regional "Sports Report." He can also be heard on his own nightly talk show, "The Jim Kozimor Show," on KHTK (1140 AM).

Prior to joining the Kings talent team, Kozimor spent two seasons in Houston working with the NBA's Rockets and the two-time WNBA Champion Comets. The 39-year-old worked for two years (1992-93 & 1993-94) in Philadelphia as play-by-play announcer for the 76ers. He also worked for the Golden State Warriors as a sideline reporter and fill-in play-by-play announcer (1989-90 - 1991-92).

Before joining the NBA ranks, Kozimor spent time working in Chicago at WMVP, co-hosting a sports talk show. He served a three-year stint as the play-by-play voice of the San Jose Jammers and La Crosse Catbirds of the Continental Basketball Association. Kozimor also has spent time as a television play-by-play announcer for the NBA Summer Pro League, NCAA Division I football and basketball, and Triple-A baseball.

A native of Chicago, Kozimor began his broadcasting career in college at Michigan State University where he earned a bachelor's degree in communications. He enjoys in-line hockey and ran and finished the 1995 Chicago Marathon. Kozimor and his wife, Sandra, reside in Sacramento.

JASON ROSS

Radio Pre/Post-Game/Halftime Host

Having served in a variety of capacities since 1994, Jason Ross returns for another season as a member of the Maloof Sports and Entertainment broadcast team. Ross has worked as a pregame, halftime, and postgame host for the Sacramento Kings and Monarchs, as well as locker room reporter, and game day statistician.

Ross, who currently serves as the sports director for Sports 1140 KHTK AM, which is the flagship station for both the Kings and the Monarchs, is the play-by-play voice of Sacramento State Hornet football and has held that position since 1997. He was also the play-by-play announcer for the San Francisco Demons during the only season of the XFL.

A native of southern California, Ross graduated from UC Davis in 1994 with a degree in rhetoric and communications. He resides in Sacramento with his wife, Alva, and their one-year old son, Jackson.

ARMANDO BOTELLO

Spanish Radio Play-by-Play

Armando Botello enters his seventh season as the play-by-play announcer on the Spanish language radio station, KRCX (99.9 FM), and 11th season overall covering the Kings.

With over 30 years experience, Botello has held positions ranging from television to print to radio in Sacramento's local media scene. Most recently, he co-hosted Voz y Voto, a weekly political television show broadcast by the Univision Network throughout California from 1999 to 2001.

Assuming the position of news director at KRCX in 1984, Botello became responsible for the production of the first 30-minute Spanish language daily newscast in the Sacramento area, which resulted in the longest running morning radio program in the area.

Botello, who earned a dual bachelor's degree in communications and ethnic studies from California State University, Sacramento, lives with his wife, Leticia. The couple has two children, Araceli Ofelia and Armando Enrique. He was inducted into the California Chicano News Media Association Hall of Fame in the summer of 2002.

KINGS RATINGS IN 2002 CONFERENCE FINALS

Game 7 of the 2002 Western Conference Finals between the Kings and Lakers drew a 16.9 national rating with a 27 share in the country's 53 largest markets, the highest for any non-Finals game in four years. The overnight ratings were the highest since Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals between Indiana and the Michael Jordan-led Chicago Bulls on May 31, 1988, which drew a 20.7 rating and a 34 share.

THEY COVER THE KINGS

MARTIN McNEAL
Beat Writer
Sacramento Bee

Martin McNeal is in his 12th season as the Kings' beat writer for the Sacramento Bee. In his role as the club's beat writer, McNeal is one of only a few local media members to travel with the club on a full-time basis. His sports reporting experience includes 12 seasons of covering NBA teams in New York, Dallas, and Golden State prior to joining the Bee editorial staff in 1990.

McNeal began his journalism career covering his hometown New York Knicks for Big Red Publications in 1978. Following three seasons at the Brooklyn-based publication, McNeal began his first Northern California stint as a Golden State Warriors' beat writer for the Peninsula Times-Tribune for six seasons before joining the sports staff at the Dallas Times-Herald in 1987, where he covered the Mavericks for three seasons.

McNeal earned his bachelor's degree in political science from Hampton University in 1977. He and his wife, Beverly, and son, Phillip (13), reside in Elk Grove.
